WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—President Roosevelt is maintaining a studied silence concerning currency inflation, but his closest intimates believe it is coming. They differ as to when and how, some predicting thirty days, some sixty and some ninety, but nearly all believe it will be found necessary before the winter is well advanced.

Storm Rages.
The inflation storm has raged unceasingly around the president's ears this week. It has been mostly of southern and western origin, its principal proponents being Senator Pat Harrison (D) of Mississippi, and Senator Elmer Thomas (D) of Oklahoma.

It is apparent that Mr. Roosevelt is extremely loath to embark upon direct currency inflation. He has discussed it with only a few of his close advisers. The average caller finds the president willing to discuss almost everything else but currency expansion.

His present policy is plainly to try everything else first. To that end, responsible administration officials have appealed to the bankers to loosen up on credit; the R. F. C. has advanced $150,000,000 to the agricultural adjustment administration to finance farm mortgages; the government embarked upon an ambitious hog-buying campaign; and

PA NEW OBSERVES
The fair finally got a break today, the day drawing nice and bright, with just enough tang in the air to make the day an ideal one.

The employees of the business office and the editorial staff of The New Castle News company enjoyed a basket of grapes sent in by Howard and Baldwin of the Harlanburg road, R. D. 4, this morning. The fruit was delicious and each cluster was the finest specimens of blue grapes. From all appearances the growers must have a fine crop this year.

Coal Code Will Be Approved By Roosevelt Today

Most Far-Reaching Peace Pact Negotiated In Years Will Be Approved

275,000 MINERS WILL BE AFFECTED
Wage Contract May Bring Peace To Disturbed Coal Regions In Western Pennsylvania

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—The most far reaching industrial peace pact negotiated in years—a wage contract between the Appalachian coal operators and the United Mine workers of America—was to be approved by President Roosevelt today as the third party to the tripartite agreement.

The wage agreement, which was negotiated while the coal code was under consideration, is expected to affect at least 275,000 miners in Pennsylvania, Ohio, West Virginia, Virginia, Northern Tennessee and Eastern Kentucky. In normal times the number would reach 340,000.

Wage Agreement
With the basic wage agreement made to become effective with the coal code Oct. 2 and expire April 1, 1934, 19 separate district detailed agreements will be negotiated. The wage contract may bring peace to the disturbed coal regions strikes are virtually outlawed under the pact, with provisions made for arbitration of disputes.

Miners Mobilize For Border War

Pennsylvania Coal Diggers Threaten To Invade West Virginia Territory

FRICK REFUSAL STARTS TROUBLE
By LEO V. DOLAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent
PITTSBURGH, Sept. 22.—The steady tramp, tramp, tramp of twenty thousand rough-shod feet, the feet of ten thousand angry men, drummed a challenging echo today to the peace agreement reached at Washington between soft coal operators and union leaders.

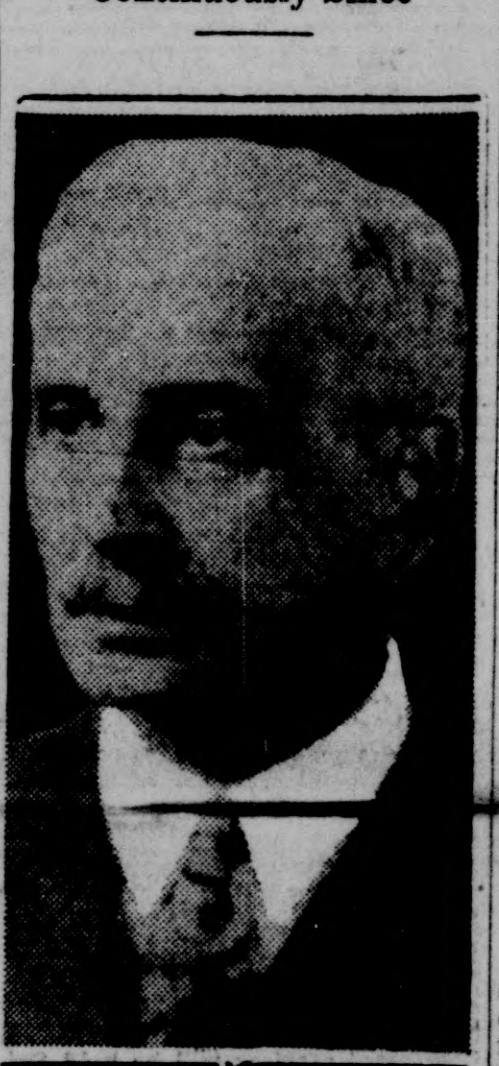

Ten thousand pickets, the largest force mobilized thus far in the bituminous coal holiday movement, served notice that at least 50,000 striking miners would not only refuse to return to the pits, but would fight to extend their crippling movement into the West Virginia field.

Trouble Brewing
Vague mutterings of an "invasion" by the Pennsylvania miners, hitherto deprecated and disavowed by strike leaders, and disregarded by operators and state authorities, gave every indication today of developing into a possible "border war" between the strikers and West Virginia authorities.

Heart Attack Proves Fatal To Dr. Shott

Veteran Westminster Professor Dies Thursday Afternoon In His Home

DR. J. A. SHOTT

(Special To The News)
NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Sept. 22.—Dr. John Abram Shott, head of the department of psychology and education at Westminster College, died suddenly at his home on South Market street yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock. A sudden heart attack is said to have caused the death of the veteran professor.

Dr. Shott has been a member of the Westminster faculty for years, coming here as professor of physics in 1902. In 1911 he became professor of psychology and education. He was graduated from Ohio University in 1892, and received his Ph. D. degree from Ohio in 1895, and his A. M. degree from Harvard University in 1901. Westminster honored him with the doctorate of pedagogy degree at the inauguration of Dr. R. F. Galbreath last fall.

Educational Pioneer
Dr. Shott was a pioneer in education in the state, being a member of early committees to write the state code. He was one of the first professors of education in Pennsylvania colleges, organizing the department here soon after the state requirements for teachers became effective. He was for 25 years a member of the local school board, and at the primaries last Tuesday was again nominated for this office.

Following his graduation from Ohio University, Dr. Shott became professor of science at Lebanon Valley College, 1892-1895; and professor of natural science at Carnegie College, 1895-1901. He came (Continued On Page Two)

Schmidt Denies Making Liquor At Castle Hill

Mission Superintendent Says He Wouldn't Know A Still If He Saw It

SARCASTICALLY TELLS OF RAID BY POLICE
Claims He Rented Three Rooms In Which Tenants Were To Store Goods

Lorenz Schmidt, Superintendent of the Castle Hill Mission, went upon the witness stand in his own defense Thursday afternoon and made a complete denial on the charge of manufacturing liquor. His case went to the jury shortly after 9 o'clock this morning after a charge by Judge Chambers and at the time of going to press the jury was still out. Schmidt's defense was that he had rented three rooms of the mission, pending the completion of a deal for the sale of the mission to Youngstown parties for $5000. He did not know anything about the operation of a still and said that he would not know one if he saw it.

Defendant's testimony
Schmidt testified that he was at home on July 14 when the officers came. Prior to the 14th he had been away for two weeks much of the time, being engaged in fixing up a house for his daughter at East Brook station. "I also had other work," said he which called me to the local police station, the court house and the sheriff's office. I usually left in the morning, but was always at home in the evening.

"What about your renting part of your house," asked Attorney Bryan, counsel for defendant.

"I not only rented a part of it, but sold it to two men who said they were from Youngstown. After we had agreed on the sale price, they rented three rooms in which to store some stuff."

I went to see my attorney Elder Bryan and he told me where to get a couple of leases. We made them out with the men on the dining room table at my home, my daughter and wife being present.

"What arrangements did you have about the sale of the property?" "The men were to pay $5,000 for it. They gave me $500 down. They (Continued On Page Two)

Police Of 72 Cities In Manhunt For Killers Who Are Headed Westward

(International News Service)
CHICAGO, Sept. 22.—An army of police directed by radio today waged a manhunt for five machine gun bandits who robbed two Federal Reserve Bank messengers in the loop of currency and negotiable paper, and murdered a policeman in their wild flight.

Seizing three or four bags of registered mail destined for the Federal Reserve Bank, the holdup men escaped through the downtown streets behind a smoke screen spread from their specially-built automobile.

Radio Police
As the gunmen fled through Chicago, changing automobiles frequently by commandeering those of passing motorists police of 72 towns in the area were called out by radio to join the manhunt.

Finding well thumbed road maps of Oklahoma and Kansas beneath the seats of the first automobile abandoned by the gang, police expressed belief that the bandits were members of the Harvey Bailey gang that kidnapped Charles F. Urschel, Oklahoma oil millionaire.

Policeman Miles Cunningham was shot and killed with a blast of machine gun fire when he sought to question the bandits after their car crashed into another as the gang sped westward five minutes after the robbery.

Officer Maurice Fitzgerald narrowly escaped death when he ducked behind a signboard to escape the (Continued On Page Two)

VANDERGRIFT, Pa., Sept. 22.—Thoroughly aroused by the menace to school children, Kiski Valley police officers united today in search for the youth who assaulted two school girls on lonely country roads yesterday.

One development of the assault was the grouping together of children for their own protection as they went to school today.

Because of their age, names of the girls who were assaulted were withheld. One girl, aged 14, is under a physician's care. The other, 16, proved too strong for her assailant and escaped after a struggle.

rain of bullets. Neither policeman was aware of the robbery when they sought to question the men.

Flee Westward Climbing into a commandeered automobile the gunmen resumed the flight westward, changing cars every few miles to check the pursuit. Sweeping up to the curb on Jackson Boulevard the bandits boldly accosted two messengers and two guards conveying the Federal Reserve Bank consignment in a hand truck from the old postoffice.

Two men carrying machine guns leaped out and one shouted: "stick 'em up!"

The guards, Proctor Hale and John McGillen, were hastily disarmed. The messengers were Victor Pinktoski and Otto Wiltzram. Choking from the cloud of smoke enveloping them, the truck's crew surrendered the mail bags.

The bandits roared away, a long trail of smoke spreading out behind the automobile. The mail bags were known to contain a sum of currency and negotiable paper, but postal authorities were unable to give an immediate accounting of their contents.

Crash Slows Flight The crash which halted their flight momentarily injured three of the five occupants of another automobile. In the abandoned bandit car police found a machine gun drum, a supply of ammunition, a bottle of whisky and several sets of motor license plates. Florida license plates were on the front and rear of the car.

Blood was found on the seats of the abandoned automobiles, indicating that some of the gang had been shot or injured in the collision. Policeman Cunningham was literally riddled with machine gun fire. As he fell dead the bandits turned a stream of bullets on his Adams Tavern on Halsted street narrowly escaped being wounded through the spray of bullets crashed through the windows and riddled the wall.

Pushing F. W. Knowles, Jr., from his car, the gunmen took his car and fled. Next they commandeered the automobile of Nick Camels, a police officer, who transferred to his car an arsenal of three machine guns and five revolvers together with the money bags.

Dutch Youth Is Declared Sane

Witness Testifies Youth Accused In Reichstag Fire Is Sane

(International News Service) LEIPZIG, Germany, Sept. 22.—Despite his wavering political career and unintelligent appearance in court, the youthful Dutch radical accused of firing the Reichstag building in Berlin is sane an expert witness testified today in the high treason trial of five alleged communists.

This belief was expressed by Ferdinand Bonhoeffer, a noted psychologist, who declared he considered the accused youth, Marinus Van Der Lubbe, of right mind despite his "inane grinning" at the trial. Van Der Lubbe's actions during the court proceedings were the result of nervous exhaustion, the witness declared, adding the 24-year-old boy, who was arrested at the scene of the Reichstag building blaze, was "different" outside the courtroom.

So far, Van Der Lubbe has been the center of the proceedings. Also accused with him are Ernst Torgler, former communist fur leader in the Reichstag, and three Bulgarian radicals.

said that they could not get hold of the balance of the purchase price at once and that was why they wanted to rent three rooms.

"Who were the men who rented the rooms?" "Charles Brown was the name he went under. I believe he was an Italian."

"How many rooms are there at the Castle Hills Mission?" "There are 17 including the bath room. I was not in the three rooms I had rented until the officers came on July 14."

"Did you know that the men had a still in those rooms?" "I did not. I would not permit a still in the house if I knew it. I occupy one large room upstairs."

"Were you with the officers in that room?" "Yes, but no liquor was found in my room."

"The chief of police says you asked him for a drink of liquor at the City building, is that true?" "Yes, and if he had produced I would not have touched the cursed stuff. I am not a prohibitionist, but I am a temperance man. I sometimes take beer or wine. I believe with the scriptures, that it is not that which goes into the mouth which defiles a man but what comes out."

"When you were in the mayor's office did you present the lease?" "No you had it."

"When did you see the lease?" "At the hearing on July 15."

Witness was asked regarding some names on an envelope which had contained the lease. He said the pen with which it was signed was not good and the men had practiced on the envelope.

"Who was present when the lease was signed?" "My wife and daughter. It was signed on the kitchen table at my home."

"Were you with the officers when they arrested you?" "I was never with them. They kidnapped me."

Asked about six cakes of soap which had been on a table when the officers arrived, Schmidt said, "Some of the good officers said they had put it in the trash."

"After they had taken you to the mayor's office did they go back?" "Yes, and I missed a field glass, 12 cakes of toilet soap, two gallons of kerosene, and a bunch of keys. I afterwards got the keys back from the good officers."

times, explaining that he was at East Brook station much of the time from June 12 to July 12.

"If Brown was a married man why was he going to sleep in the rooms?" "That's his business."

"Did you ever see anything hauled away from the Mission by the men or others?" "I did not."

"When Chief Haven told you that 60 gallons had been hauled away on one occasion, did you not correct him and say it was 75 gallons?" "I learned that afterwards."

"Was there any odor about the place?" "Some sort, but I did not know what it was."

"Recounting his visit to the three rooms with the officers Schmidt said that he saw some sort of an oven but he did not know what it was. In another room were some copper utensils which witness did not recognize. He said he did not know what was in the barrels as he did not taste it."

Charles Stone, James Germany and Frank Warner, corroborated Schmidt regarding his work at East Brook.

Elsie Laughlin who had worked at the Mission had seen nothing to arouse her suspicions. Mrs. Schmidt and daughter told about the signing of the lease. This closed the testimony for the defendant and arguments were made by attorney.

ROOSEVELT LOATH BUT LEADERS URGE QUICK EXPANSION

now the agriculture department has been given $75,000,000 with which to go into the surplus commodity market and buy relief stores.

In addition, the government is considering the plan advanced by southern cotton growers for federal purchase of about one-half the cotton crop at 15 cents a pound.

Other Schemes. It has other ambitious schemes on the laboratory table for examination, including one of financing purchases in the field of heavy industries, such as steel and railroads.

The far-flung public works program is being speeded to the utmost consistent with a practice in an effort to keep building materials moving and men employed.

All these schemes will be given what is described as "the good old college try" before there is any tinkering with the currency.

It is of more than passing significance, however, that most of the president's closest advisers, in and out of congress, believe that in the end it will be necessary to supplement these endeavors with direct expansion of the currency.

There was strong agitation for it in the last congress. They wanted to make it mandatory. In the end, compromise was reached by giving the executive discretion to authorize currency expansion when he deemed it necessary. The power was not used. But it remains in his hands.

Farmers Complain. Southerners and westerners complain that commodity prices, cotton, wheat, livestock, tobacco, have not risen proportionately with increases in things the producer has to buy. Currency expansion is their cherished remedy. In the end they believe it will prove Mr. Roosevelt's last remedy.

The inflation storm will gather force as the time approaches for congress to meet. Senator Harrison, chairman of the powerful finance committee, predicted a few days ago that if the president does not utilize the discretionary powers congress gave him, congress itself will act in January to make it mandatory.

There the situation rests for the moment. With most close observers around the corner. Have far away that corner is may be debatable.

Destitution In Mining Villages Stands Revealed

Woman Finds That Miners Have Not Lost Sense Of Manhood, Despite Poverty

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—President Roosevelt was given a vivid picture of destitution in one of the nation's coal fields by a friend just returned from a visit among the miners.

The President's friend observed a nicely dressed woman, apparently from another locality, walking through the streets of the mining village referred to. She appeared anxious to talk to some of the miners about conditions in that section, and walked up to a group of them sitting about the steps in front of a tiny cottage.

As the woman approached, the miners dropped the long tips of their caps over their eyes. The woman walked directly in front and asked:

"Why do you drop your caps when I walk up?" There was some hemming and hawing, and then an embarrassed silence. She insisted, however, and one of the miners told her. He said:

"Well, we only recognized you as a lady when you came up. We didn't know 'till you got real near whether you were some of our folks or not. It was getting dark."

"You see, lots of the womenfolk around here haven't got enough clothes to cover 'em up. So, whenever they come by we all pull the caps down over our eyes."

Electric Plant Workers Strike

Report 3,000 Westinghouse Electric Workers in Massachusetts Plant On Strike

(International News Service) SPRINGFIELD, Mass., Sept. 22.—Three thousand workers in the Westinghouse electric plant at East Springfield walked out on strike today.

Company officials declared the difficulties were brought about by demands of the workers for increased wages.

Leaders of a new union organized in the plant, affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, said, however, that the real reason for the walkout was because the company refused to recognize the union. Federal intervention in the case was asked.

WOULD YOU BELIEVE IT?

Most everyone who comes into our office for an examination and glasses, remarks about the substantial saving they are able to make.

We know it's hard for a lot of folks to believe that we give them the same quality glasses for $9.00 that are sold elsewhere for $20, even as much as $30, but nevertheless, it's the truth. Whether you are interested in single or double vision lenses, you can't pay more than $9.00 at Rosenthal's. And whether you get a rim or rimless frame, the cost doesn't vary. In other words you get your choice of the latest style frames, complete with either single or double vision lenses, plus a scientific examination by Dr. Rosenthal personally, all for only $9.00 complete. Not a penny more.

Be fair with yourself, be fair with your pocketbook—come to Dr. Rosenthal's for quality glasses.

All Of Us

BY MARSHALL MASLIN

SATURDAY NIGHT AT THE BAND CONCERT

Since then I have had many a thrilling moment.
I have seen Pavlova and La Argentina and Mary Wigman dance. I have heard McCormick and Scipia and Caruso and Alma Gluck and Lawrence Tibbett singing the heart out of your body. I have heard Paderewski and Rachmaninoff and Horowitz bringing terror and grandeur into a vast hall. I have seen the Barrymores and Duse and other great figures walk serenely across a stage.

But—
I confess without shame that there has never been any greater thrill in my life than I used to have back in those days when we had a band concert in the plaza every Saturday summer night.

As I remember that time the moon was always shining full on the little town. The nights were warm and bland. And all the gardens of the town sent their rich perfume on the quiet breeze. . . . It was a good time for a young fellow to be alive. . . . He dressed up in his blue serge suit, in his high white collar and narrow tie; he shined his shoes to a bright gloss and shaved carefully and promised to be home early and went down town to join the boys.

The boys walked one way around the block and the girls walked the other. Sometime two groups would stop to talk for a minute or two and then disentangle and go their ways again. And the white dresses of the girls were lovely in the night. . . . One of those girls was "special". There was no other girl in the world quite like her. She was "different".

Her smile, her laughter, the way she walked, the way she talked, in all ways she was different. That summer, from all other girls. And after a while, after the concert was over, she might be kind to him and might let him buy her a soda at "Buck's" and let him "take her home". And so the old folks talked in the stores and did their shopping and thus the young folks walked round and round the plaza. Did they listen to the music? No, I hardly think they did. They were not there to listen to the harmony of a band. They were there to feel the pulsing rhythm of life. They were listening, all of them, to the sweet, exciting music of Youth. Nothing else counted, no other melody pierced them. They had ears for no other harmony. They were young, and they were Youth itself walking round and round the plaza.

And that, I suppose, is why the music of the Saturday night hometown band concert echoes so long in the remembering heart.

DON'T KEEP IT BOTTLED UP
Rather than having a grouchy, have an understanding, even though it leads to a wordy battle.

Such an encounter will at least clear the atmosphere, and then it will be easier to make a fresh start. Offer in families or among friends conditions arise which require forebearance, and the method of friction, politeness, or all concerned of any real pleasure in association.

Not infrequently this sort of thing goes on so long that it becomes a habit, and love or friendly feeling which should exist may leave, never to return.

It is silly to crowd unfriendliness into lives short at best. Even with circumstances most favorable there is enough to detract from the joy of living without something of personal manufacture adding mental discomfort.

If you have something on your mind that prevents you from accepting some one on the basis they should be accepted, get rid of it. Better to have an outburst and quarrel than retain the mean feelings, the simmering fury of an unspoken hatred.

An oral explosion may clear the air and open the road to a truer, more lasting friendship, or make a clean-cut break and no hard feelings.

Just Folks

TO A BABY

Just a little bunch of gladness,
Just a little nest of glee
In this world no hint of sadness
Or of trouble can you see.
Life is feasting; life is laughter,
And a tickling of the chin.
Never mind what follows after.
Drain your bottle now and grin.

Lovely baby, shake your rattle
As I'm bending over you.
There'll be time enough for battle
And the things which grownups do.
There'll be time enough to hurry
After things you want to win.
Time enough for care and worry—
Drain your bottle now and grin.

Oh, it's good to hear you cooing
At the breaking of the day;
Good to look at you reviewing
All the folks who come your way.
Good to see you know your mother
As she brings your bottle in.
And your father and your brother,
And it's good to see you grin.

Synopsis of Editorial Views By Newspapers of Nations on Important Subjects as Edited by Consolidated Press Association

New York Sun's Centenary
Stirs Praise Of Profession

Tributes To Dana As One Of Greatest Journalists And To Independence Of His Newspaper Voiced By Press Of Country

Observance of the one hundredth anniversary of the founding of the New York Sun inspires words of appreciation from other newspapers. It is felt that the devotion of the Sun to independence was the foundation of a characteristic of the profession which has contributed to its influence in many directions. The quality of brilliance in literary achievement which reached its high mark under Charles A. Dana is held to have played an important part in the marvelous growth of the press.

"The part that popular and independent journalism has played in the intellectual and physical development of the United States is largely immeasurable," says THE SUN itself. "Yet it has been accomplished principally by the formula which Ben Day wrote for the front page of the first Sun: 'The object of this paper is to lay before the public, at a price within the means of every one, all the news of the day, and at the same time afford an advantageous medium for advertising.' The Sun sees not only itself, but hundreds of other newspapers, having complied with the simple fundamental requirements of Mr. Day. To all such contemporaries this newspaper, observing its hundredth birthday, offers congratulations to the completion of a century of free and independent journalism, and with its gratulatory spirit is mixed curiosity as to what the newspapers of the world will be like in 2000 A. D."

THE NEWARK EVENING NEWS, which has been celebrating on the completion of the first fifty years of its own history, lauds its metropolitan neighbor with statement: "A mere infant of fifty years, The Evening News salutes The Sun, New York contemporary. The Sun's story, from the day when first was issued the little sheet of four three-column pages, is an inspiring story of journalism which created a great newspaper through a fine sense of enterprise and unswerving adherence to an ideal. As The Sun, from the days of its small beginning, recorded the news and commented on affairs of state and politics, some famous names in newspaperdom were made. That of Charles A. Dana, who guided The Sun from 1861 to 1897, was the most familiar. Chester S. Lord, long-time 'boss' of The Sun, who died recently, was widely known. Such men as Edward Page Mitchell voiced The Sun's editorial opinions. A list of men who have reached high place in literature received their hard, sure training there in one capacity or another."

Declaring that the centennial number of The Sun is "a gem of purest ray," THE ROCKFORD REGISTER-REPUBLIC finds, in the history of The Sun, "achievements of great lustre which were the result of the Sun's policy to have the best brains attainable in its editorial and editorial staffs."

THE BUTTE MONTANA STANDARD offers the judgment of the record established: "The Sun was the first successful penny paper in the world. Within five years of its birth, 19 penny papers in New York alone appeared to compete with Ben Day's daily. Only one survived—The New York Herald, founded by James Gordon Bennett in 1855, x x x Charles A. Dana, who became editor of The Sun in 1868, is ranked by the entire newspaper profession, along with Horace Greeley, James Gordon Bennett and a few others, as one of journalism most shining lights. Charles A. Dana died 36 years ago, but the paper which he made so excellent lives on, animated by the same joyous spirit with which he directed its fortunes."

"Its influence, its power for good, the very sinews of its being," according to the ATLANTA JOURNAL, "was and attained a freer and more youthful vigor as honorable years go by. That is why the New York Sun is now one of the youngest and most pulsant of newspapers. Many famous editors have ruled it, and have grown old and passed on—Benjamin Day, who founded the Sun; Charles A. Dana, who stamped it with the personality it retains to this day; and others who presided for various periods over the editorial destinies of one of America's greatest newspapers. But each editor left in the heart of the paper something of his own vitality and spirit. And so the Sun, now become a centenarian, demonstrates brilliantly that the Fountain of Youth is not a fancy except for mortals."

"The Sun tradition of interesting journalism was magnificently carried on," declares the CLEVELAND PLAIN DEALER, while the KENNEBEC JOURNAL holds that "the Sun introduced a new day, a new deal," and the ROCK ISLAND ARGUS states that "Dana's name is indelibly associated with the history of the newspaper profession, establishing a great newspaper. The FORT WORTH STAR-TELEGRAM describes it as "the most individualistic newspaper ever published," and adds that "for nearly one-third of a century it was the Sun of the glory of one American journalist."

Seventy years before Jesus was born, they had an election in progress in Pompeii, but no one knows how it resulted.

Years later Mr. Vesuvius erupted and buried the city for nearly 2,000 years under lava and ashes. Recent excavations have brought to light several election posters which show that campaign methods haven't changed much.

One reads, "Vote for Pansa who was Never Inebriated," indicating there was a liquor question even in Roman times.

Notables Born This Date—Philip Stanhope, Earl of Chesterfield, b. 1694, who married the daughter of a king, rose to be Lord Protector of Ireland and became Secretary of State, is best remembered for what he wanted to be remembered by: least: his letters to his illegitimate son. He was deeply concerned in the education of the youth and his unaffected communications to him have become literary classics. Excerpt from a letter written in Sept. 1748: A man of sense only trifles with them (women), plays with them, humors and flatters them, as he does with a sprightly, forward child; but he neither consults them about, nor trusts them with, serious matters, though he often makes them believe that he does both—which is the thing in the world that they are proud of. In Sept. 1831, 16 years before Edison was born, Faraday, who had never attended an institution of learning higher than a day school, established that by moving a magnetized cylinder inside a copper wire coil, an electric current was produced that flowed through the coil. Thus the principle of the dynamo was discovered. Before Edison's development of the electric lamp, Faraday suggested the use of magneto-electric lights in light-houses. 1827—According to Joseph Smith, then aged 22, the angel Moroni appeared to him in what is now Wayne County, N. Y., and gave him the engraved plates from which he transcribed the Book of Mormon, bible of the Church of Jesus Christ of the Latter Day Saints, which he established 3 years later. The Book of Mormon is a collection of 16 distinct books, professing to be written at different periods by successive prophets. Its style is that of the English version of the Bible, from which quotations to the amount of 300 pages are taken.

1860—The schooner Jenny was freed from an ice-jam in which she had been held for 37 years, a ghost ship! As the whaling schooner Hope was south of Drake Straits, an ice barrier broke near it, revealing a full-rigged ship caught in its grip. Boarding her, the Hope's captain found all of the crew, frozen & perfectly preserved, at their stations. The captain was seated, pen in hand before a log book with the last entry dated May 4, 1823.

1862—After having suppressed 2 emancipation proclamations issued by territorial governors Ben Butler & John C. Fremont, President Lincoln issued a proclamation warning the Confederate states of his intention to liberate all slaves within enemy territories on Jan. 1, 1863, without consideration of their owners' rights, unless the rebellion were ended. It wasn't, of course; and on Jan. 1, the Emancipation Proclamation was formally issued, granting liberty to 3,063,392 slaves.

Local Group At College To Become National

Only Local Sorority At Westminster Becomes National Chapter

(Special To The News)
NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Sept. 22.—Kappa Alpha Alpha sorority at Westminster College has been accepted as a chapter of Beta Phi Alpha sorority and will become a chapter in the national organization at installation ceremonies here in November.

With the exception of Omicron Mu Gamma, music sorority, Kappa Alpha Alpha is the only local group of women students on the Westminster campus, and the affiliation of this society with Beta Phi Alpha will give Westminster six chapters of national sororities. The others are: Sigma Kappa, Chi Omega, Kappa Delta, Alpha Gamma Delta, Theta Upsilon.

Kappa Alpha Alpha was founded as a local sorority at Westminster in 1927. Its officers this year are: Nellie Young, East McKeesport, president; Mildred Dick, West Middlesex, vice-president and secretary; Dorothy Shiffer, New Castle, chairman; and Nellie Young, East McKeesport, and Mable Masters, Mercer, members of the Pan-Hellenic council.

Beta Phi Alpha sorority was founded May 8, 1909 at the University of California. The badge is a pearl Greek letter Phi with the letters Beta and Alpha embossed on a field of black enamel at either side of the Phi.

Beta Phi Alpha is one of the few national sororities which provides recognition pins for mothers of members. The fraternity magazine, the Aldebaran, is published quarterly. The policy of the national has been conservative in granting chapters and at present there are 30 chapters located in all sections of the country. The nearest chapter to Westminster is Eta at the University of Pittsburgh, installed in 1924.

BEST REMEDY FOR Bladder Weakness

The kidneys are seldom free from poisons. Clean them out and backache, sideache, and bladder trouble go. The kidneys are the great filters of the blood. If the kidneys are clogged you should clean them out at once with Thompson's Barosma Tablets and not allow the poison to pass into the system.

Resignation Of Wallace Asked By Iowa Farmers

Wholesale Destruction Of Pork
Is Condemned At State
Meeting

(International News Service)
DES MOINES, Ia., Sept. 22.—A resolution demanding the resignation of Secretary of Agriculture Henry A. Wallace was voted Thursday with ringing cheers by the Iowa farmers union in convention here. Wallace as solutions of the farm problem, and especially do we condemn his wholesale destruction of pork and cotton when millions of our people are hungry and in need of clothing," said the resolution. "We hold such wanton destruction to be un-Christian and criminal and demand his resignation from office."

President Still Hopes To Attend Legion Convention

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—President Roosevelt still hopes to attend the American Legion convention in Chicago opening Oct. 2. Legion Commander Louis Johnson declared today after a talk with the executive. Yesterday the White House said Mr. Roosevelt would be unable to attend because he leaves here Wednesday for Hyde Park to attend a wedding and on Oct. 4 will make a speech in New York. Johnson reported the president will make his decision in a day or so.

Organize Posse To Halt Holdups

(International News Service)
CLOVIS, N. M.—A posse of 200 men—every one of them ready to shoot—is ready to meet further depredations of gunmen along the Texas-New Mexico border. The posse, made up of sheriffs, deputy sheriffs and former Texas rangers, was created as an answer to a recent epidemic of bank and filling station holdups along the Pecos river, once the stamping grounds of "Billy the Kid", notorious western desperado of a half century ago.

The current crime wave resulted in the killing of six well-known southwestern peace officers by criminals infesting this region.

Scarnici And Four Of Gang Facing Death

Electric Chair Awaits Gang
Of Cold Blooded Killers
In New York

NUMEROUS CHARGES
HURLED AT GROUP

Police Agree That Scarnici
Gang Committed O'Connell Kidnaping

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—"He's headed for the chair, why hold up the procession?"

With that query, and in the confidence that one of the cruelest gang killers ever to fall into a police net was in their hands, authorities today swept into a position of secondary importance the alleged implication of Leonard Scarnici, 27, in the abduction of John J. O'Connell, Jr., of Albany and concentrated on starting Scarnici and four allies to the electric chair.

Eleven Killings
In Scarnici, police were certain they held the key to at least eleven cold blooded killings and a possible clue to the machine gun murder of Vincent (Mad Dog) Coll.

New York police, in fact, were on the verge of embarrassment at the numerous charges flung at Scarnici and at least one of his confederates, Anthony Reino, alias Russo, who with Scarnici was named in bench warrants issued at Albany as the kidnapers of young O'Connell.

Besides the charges in the bench warrants, authorities at Troy wired local officials they wanted Scarnici, Reino and Charles Herzog, alias Shore, for the holding of the Bank of Rensselaer and the killing of Detective James Stevens last May 29.

Not Identified
Police here agreed with District
Attorney John T. Delaney of Albany county that Scarnici and his aides were responsible for the "snatching" of O'Connell. But the victim, held captive 23 days until a $40,000 ransom was paid, was unable positively to identify any of the five men as his abductors, although he said Scarnici and Reino
"resembled" them.

In addition to the request of Troy authorities for three of the five, and the claim of local police that they would link Scarnici and possibly some of the others to nearly a dozen murders in this section, Connecticut officials notified headquarters that Scarnici was wanted for a filling station robbery in which two men were slain, near Woodbridge, and Massachusetts came forth with a quest that he be held for that state in connection with the kidnap-ing of Samuel Rutstein in Boston last year.

But New York officials intimated they had first claim to the alleged

Held Without Bail
Scarnici, Reino, Herzog and Philip Seigler and Fred Penit were held without bail today for arraignment
Saturday on charges of robbing a branch of the Bank of Manhattan here on December 5 last. All denied complicity in the Rensselaer
Bank robbery, but police said Scar-nici had admitted participation in it.

Detectives also said they had evidence or information linking Scar-nici with the murders of Marcel Poffo and Max Parken, slain near Harrison, N. Y., last June; the killing of Anthony Russo and Joseph Callegro near the same place, and the killing of Joe Rubino following a quarrel over division of loot from a Brooklyn Bank robbery.

Police based their hope of connecting Scarnici with the Coll murder on ballistic tests of bullets taken from the "mad dog's" riddled body with those fired from a machine gun found in the Mt. Kisco, N. Y., hideout where Scarnici's wife, Eleanor, and Reino's reputed wife, Emma,
were seized with a veritable arsenal of guns and ammunition.

Seven Seized
Meantime, Capt. Richard Oliver, head of the undercover squad which with federal investigators seized the five men and two women after tracking them since July 7, when O'Connell was abducted, concentrated on finding witnesses or evidence which may tie Scarnici in with three more killings—one of them that of Al Lienthal, New Jersey run king.

Oliver said Scarnici was suspected of complicity of the murder of Lienthal, shot to death after he was kidnaped from his New Jersey refuge, and in the sack murders of William Price and Edward Flanagan in Brooklyn. The latter two were said to have been implicated in the abduction of Lienthal.

Slayer Of Girl Sentenced To Die

Philadelphia Judge Sentences Jim Bach, Slayer
Of Rose McCloskey
To Death

DEFENSE COUNSEL
PLANS NEW MOVE

(International News Service)
PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 22.—Richard (Big Slim) Bach, 22, found guilty by a jury of the brutal slay-ing of Rose McCloskey, today was sentenced to die in the electric chair by Judge Harry S. McDevitt who overruled a plea for new trial.

"Go ahead" Bach muttered glumly
when Judge McDevitt inquired whether he had anything to say before sentence was pronounced.
Attorney Harry H. Johns, counsel for Bach, announced he will appeal to a higher court on the grounds of after discovered evidence tending to show Bach was innocent. Rose, a pretty five and ten cent store clerk, was battered to death as she kept a tryst in a lonely section of Fairmount Park with Dennis Boyle, her sweetheart, who was badly beaten by the slayer.

Senior High School News

ATTENDANCE NOW NUMBERS 1,938

Enrollment figures, checked this week in the high school office, show 1,938 students are attending classes at Ne-Ca-Hi this semester. This figure does not include those who are attending high school classes at the George Washington junior high school. The class totals were listed as follows:

Romanus by making excellent grades in tests given for that purpose, were not present. However, they will be properly initiated at a coming meeting.

The initiation was in the form of perplexing questions, which required considerable thought. One newcomer was asked the following: "What did Caesar say to Socrates when he crossed the Rubicon?" The questioner answered correctly. Those readers who do not know the answer may do a little research work. Motions were voted upon as to the raising of money. An offer to sell Christmas cards was accepted. This project will be begun soon. The question of dues will be discussed at a subsequent meeting.

This was the first time that the new officers chosen last spring had the opportunity to display their abilities. The new leaders are: Consul Primus, Ralph Davies; Consul Secundus, James Hartland; Scriba, Lida Joseph; Quaestor, Burden John, and Aedile, Alma Broadbent.

Student Council Organizes Anew, Opens Activity

Bob Allen Named President;
Talk Semester's Work At First Session

Electing its officers for the new school year, the senior high school student council at its first meeting on Wednesday morning took under consideration the plans for its semester's work.

Members named the following as officers:

President, Bob Allen; vice president, Wallace Byers; secretary, Becky Carson; assistant secretary, Lawrence Bennett; treasurer, Bill Davies; and reporter, Bill Shira.

The council decided that its time this semester will be largely devoted to the organization of a student court, an honorary society, and other minor activities. A committee consisting of Becky Carson, Richard Ramsey and Ralph Davies, was named to prepare a program for a football pep chapel, which was held this morning.

City Helps School Beautify Grounds

Donations For Lawn Appreciated By Students—Shrubbery Flourishing

When the senior high students returned to their classes this semester they were pleasantly surprised by the appearance of the school property. The shrubbery which was planted last spring is green and flourishing, considering the drought of the summer. The shrubbery was provided for by the January class of 1929, and is a fine addition to the grounds.

The benches and bird bath which were installed by the city during the summer also add greatly to the beauty of the school grounds. The students wish to express their appreciation of the city's interest in adding to their efforts to beautify their lawn.

Old Trolley Line Property Is Sold

Harmony Route Affairs Are Being Wound Up By Receiver

BUTLER, Pa., Sept. 22.—Half interest in the Harmony Short Line terminal in Butler and a dozen parcels of land belonging to the defunct Pittsburgh, Harmony, Butler & New Castle Traction company was sold by the receiver, Maurice R. Scharff of Pittsburgh at the Butler courthouse Thursday.

Interest in the terminal, half of which was sold as property of the short line a week ago, was purchased by the Harmony Short Line Bus & Land company, which organized a bus service when the operation of the car lines suspended two years ago. A dozen small tracts of land between Bradford Woods and New Castle and Ellwood City were also sold.

Everybody has days when every waking hour is packed with zest of living. Why not make every day like this?

A frequent drawback to fitness is constipation. It may dull your energy, steal your appetite, lower your vitality. Yet it is so easy to overcome.

Try eating Kellogg's ALL-BRAN. Science shows this delicious cereal supplies "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and vitamin B to promote appetite, and tone the intestinal tract.

Flames Destroy Cathedral Near Montreal, Canada

Valleyfield Catholic Settlement Suffers $1,600,000 Loss Early Today

FIREMAN INJURED FIGHTING BLAZE

Nuns And Pupils Flee As Fire Destroys Convent, Cathedral And Residences

(International News Service)
MONTREAL, Sept. 22—Fanned by a freshening breeze fire which broke out in the Roman Catholic Cathedral at Valleyfield, about 35 miles southwest of here, early today, swept the Cathedral sector with loss estimated at $1,600,000.

The flames, gaining headway before a volunteer fire brigade could get into action, swept the church structure, valued at $600,000 and leaped to the adjoining convent building of the sisters of Jesus and Mary virtually razing the million dollar structure.

Flee To Safety
Five hundred nuns and pupils fled from the building to safety as firemen struggled against the blaze and calls for reinforcements were rushed to nearby towns.

After sweeping the Cathedral and convent the flames jumped to the hospice of the nuns and threatened the Episcopal residence of Bishop Langlois. Firemen at Valleyfield reported by telephone here that it was doubtful if the building could be saved.

Six firemen were slightly injured battling the blaze. One, Edmond Delisle, fell from the roof of the convent. The others suffered from smoke asphyxiation and slight burns. Residents in the vicinity of the Cathedral square turned out to protect their dwellings as the breeze fanning the flames increased.

Orphanage Threatened
Garden hoses were dragged out and householders took to the rooftops with tubs and buckets of water to prevent the entire square from going down before the flames. Latest reports from Valleyfield said an orphanage near the Cathedral was being threatened but that nuns and the children had been moved to a place of safety.

Report Quakes Take Heavy Toll

Report Series Of Earthquakes In Isolated Szechwan Province Of China

(International News Service)
SHANGHAI, Sept. 22—Meagre details of a five day series of earthquakes which took a heavy toll of life in isolated Szechwan Province were received here today.

Several cities were wrecked or badly damaged, while avalanches wiped out the villages of a number of Tibetan tribes.

The quakes were felt most severely in the territory watered by the Min river. The towns of Mowsien and Teinhal were badly damaged, while Lifan, west of the Min River, was virtually wrecked with large loss of life.

Tibetan tribes living in the adjoining mountain regions fled for their lives when the tremors caused rock falls. A party of foreign missionaries, whose names are not known, narrowly escaped death in an avalanche as a mountain caved in.

(International News Service)
SAN FRANCISCO—Even the radio will be used to aid in the construction of the San Francisco-Oakland bay bridge, it was revealed here, when engineers decided to use it as a means of communication with isolated bridge piling far out in the bay.

The radiotelephone to be used in communicating with the boats going across the bay and with workers on the pilings will operate on a 4 to 6 meter wave length. By use of the radio the engineers can speak with their men at work on the pilings from either shore, or can intercept men in boats on their way to the job.

(International News Service)
YELLOWSTONE PARK, Wyo.—Ornithologists were puzzled recently over the recent discovery of Willis T. Smith, Yellowstone Park ranger-naturalist. Smith found a nest of a pair of loons with two half-grown young loons in it hidden in the reeds near Madison Lake.

Loons, long-necked birds, strikingly colored in black and white, which utter a long, low call at night, were never before known to nest in this region, their usual habitat being the most northerly forest areas of Canada.

GOVERNOR ASKED TO SEND TROOPS

(International News Service) HAYS, Kan., Sept. 22.—Police of two states today were pursuing four machine gunners who raided the Farmers' State Bank here, abducting twelve persons as hostages on a flight into Oklahoma.

The bandits shifted from one commandeered automobile to another as they fled before posses directed by an airplane. Loot obtained in the bank robbery consisted of only the cash outside the bank vaults.

Nearing Hollywood, Kan., late last night, the gunmen freed the last of their hostages and swept across the Oklahoma line with a posse in close pursuit.

The robbers marched eight captives from the bank to accompany them in their automobile, but two of them escaped before the gunmen roared away.

Others were taken prisoners as the robbers stopped other automobiles. Gov. Alf. M. Landon was asked to dispatch state troops to aid in the search.

FALSE FINGERNAILS LATEST SOCIETY FAD

(International News Service) LONDON—False finger nails are the latest fad among society women here.

Made of precious metal they have been introduced in various shapes and sizes to fit all clients.

A wax impression is taken of each finger nail. This is made in a plaster cast, and the false nails are then made and fitted. They can be obtained in silver or gold, or lacquered in any color.

GORILLA FAVORITE OF CAMERA FIENDS

Mahoning Grange Plans Ceremony

Charter Transfer Occurs At Mahoning Hall Next Wednesday Night

An annual Grange event will take place at the Mahoning Valley hall on Wednesday evening, September 27th at 8 o'clock when the Lawrence County Pomona Grange, No. 65, will present the charter of the old Mahoning Grange No. 500 to Mahoning Valley Grange No. 1649.

The Mahoning Grange No. 500 was organized at Edinburg on March 13, 1875, and met regularly there until April 5th, 1879, when the meeting place was changed to a hall on the John N. Fulkman farm at Nashua, where it continued to meet for a similar period or until it became dormant. This grange was never disbanded or the charter surrendered to the state grange. J. W. Fulkman of New Wilmington, the only living charter member, had the charter in his possession and presented it to the Pomona Grange some time ago. Action was later taken to frame and present the charter to Mahoning Valley to place in their hall on account of Mahoning Valley being organized in and serving the same community.

It will be an open meeting.

An effort has been made to get in touch with all former members and present members of the Mahoning Grange and the present Mahoning Valley Grange. Anyone in the community having any grange interest are cordially invited.

The committee on arrangements is L. O. Cover, chairman; Mrs. Mahala Bruce and Mrs. Jane Walters.

State Grange Master J. Audley Boak and Pomona Master W. S. Fullerton are to be present.

The program follows:

Music—By Orchestra.

Opening Song.

Prayer by the chaplain.

History of Mahoning Grange as recorded by the minutes—By Secretary Mac B. Houk.

Presentation of charter by Pomona.

Response by Master Fred Knoll.

Solo—"Memories," Miss Elma Robinson.

Reminiscences of the grange.

Music by Orchestra.

Remarks by State and Pomona officers and others.

Closing song.

Benediction.

McGill P. T. A. Holds Interesting Meeting

Mrs. E. B. Russell Of New Wilmington Is The Guest Speaker Of Occasion

First regular meeting of the Arthur McGill Parent-Teachers Association for the present school term was an event of Thursday afternoon in the school auditorium, with a good attendance of the members.

Preceding the regular meeting at 2:45 o'clock, there was a meeting of the executive committee of the association, presided at the regular meeting and Mrs. H. G. Bloomer, the secretary, presented the report of the last meeting.

Approval was given to the recommendation of the executive committee that five delegates be sent to Pittsburgh next Monday to represent the association at the conference of the Southwestern Pennsylvania District P. T. A. It was also decided that the October meeting of the association should be in the form of a reception to the teachers of the school.

At the conclusion of the business session, Mrs. L. B. Calvin, chairman of the program committee, assumed charge of the meeting and introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. E. B. Russell of New Wilmington. Mrs. Russell, a former school teacher, gave a most interesting address on the subject "Living Together In The Family." In the course of her address, she drew attention to the things in family life that benefit the children and help the parent and stressed courtesy on the part of all as one of the big factors.

The concluding address of the program was given by Prof. R. G. Leslie, the principal, who spoke on arithmetic, after which he distributed sheets on which there are test drills in arithmetic for use at home.

An examination at the hospital revealed that no bones were broken, her injuries being of a superficial nature, and she will be able to leave the hospital soon.

From Joshua To Solomon

"Brass Tacks" On The Sunday School Lesson

The Golden Text

Ephesians 6:10—"Be strong in the Lord, and in the strength of his might."

(The International Uniform Lesson for Sept. 24 is the quarterly review lesson on "Some Early Leaders of Israel from Joshua to Solomon," the Golden Text being Ephesians 6:10, "Be strong in the Lord, and in the strength of his might.")

By DR. ALVIN E. BELL

It was a far cry from the simplicity of Joshua to "Solomon in all his glory". It was but four and a half centuries from the time the ark of the covenant rested upon the priests' shoulders passing over the divided waters of Jordan ahead of Joshua and the nation entering the promised land until that same ark rested in the holy of holies of Solomon's temple built to house that precious treasure. But those centuries marked the change from a horde of newly emancipated slaves to a great and settled nation respected among the nations of antiquity.

From Theocracy to Monarchy

But there were other changes these centuries brought from the day Joshua challenged the nation to serve Jehovah only to the day when Solomon, after erecting a marvelous temple for Jehovah's worship erected other temples in its very shadow for the worship of the false gods brought in by his heathen wives.

There was also the change from the theocracy to the monarchy; the rejection of God's rulership over the nation and the substitution of "a king like the other nations" round about.

The Land Possessed

Under Joshua's military genius the land was possessed. The mantle of Moses fell upon worthy shoulders for Joshua had learned to serve as Moses' minister. Through the co-operation of such brave associates as Caleb for whom age drew no deadline, he dispossessed the Canaanites and settled the nation in the promised land. Their single failure lay in utterly exterminating the Canaanites for from the remnant they spared came the worship of false gods which was the curse of Israel through all the centuries of the judges and kings that followed.

The Land Judged

After Joshua the nation's leadership was lodged in the judges or dictators whom God raised up from time to time to deliver the nation from the invasions and oppression of its enemies. The most important of these were Othniel, Ehud, Deborah and Barak, Gideon, Jephthah and Samson. The history of the entire period of their domination is to be found in the oft recurring words, "And the children of Israel again did evil in the sight of the Lord, and the Lord sold them unto their enemies round about; and

Bank Teller Is Opening Witness In Kidnap Trial

Seven Minneapolis Persons Held For Participation In Urschel Kidnaping

TELLS OF PASSING OF MARKED BILLS

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Sept. 22—Placing a Minneapolis bank teller on the witness stand, the government today opened its case against the seven Minneapolis and St. Paul defendants who are among the 12 persons on trial in connection with the kidnaping of Charles F. Urschel, millionaire Oklahoma City oil man. The government proposes to link the twin cities defendants with the passing of some of the $200,000 ransom money.

Teller Testifies
Ralph Higgins, teller for the Hennepin state bank of Minneapolis, testified that Sam Frederick brought $1,800 to the bank and obtained a cashier's check payable to "S. A. Peters" for that amount. The witness said Frederick had acted as messenger to the bank for Charles Wolk, who is a member of the Wolk Transfer company.

Wolk, one of the seven twin cities defendants was asked to stand: Higgins identified him as the Chas. Wolk of Minneapolis whom he knew. Higgins further testified that the money brought to the bank contained fifty used federal reserve bank notes of $20 denomination. The $20,000 paid over as ransom to the Urschel kidnapers were all in used $20 bills.

The bank gave Frederick a check for the $1,800 the witness said. The check was introduced in evidence.

WEATHER CHANGE BOOSTS DEMANDS ON CITY MISSION

Needy Seek Stoves, Bedding As Mercury Goes Down—Ask Donations

The coming of colder weather today brought a growing number of needy applicants to the City Rescue Mission in quest of urgent heating and sleeping equipment for their houses. Superintendent B. J. Watkins reported the number is gaining daily.

Mr. Watkins, however, found that the mission's supply was quickly exhausted before all the applicants had been taken care of. Several urgent cases could not be handled. Directing an appeal to the public, Superintendent Watkins again asked community residents to donate to the mission any household furniture that might not be of use in their homes. He feels that while many have little to contribute there are others whose old mattresses, coal stoves and the like would find a welcome spot in some needy home. The mission maintains a truck which collects all donations if a call is made to 340.

Jury Out All Night, Finally Discharged

Unable To Agree On Verdict In Case Of William Foley Of Ellwood City

After being out all night the jury in the case of William Foley of Ellwood City, charged with a statutory offense against a nine-year-old girl, reported to Judge Chambers this morning that they could not agree, and were discharged.

The jury went out shortly after 9 o'clock on Thursday and wrangled over the case all day. About 5 o'clock Thursday evening they came in for further instructions and after receiving them again retired. This morning they reported that they were hopelessly deadlocked and were discharged. It is understood that on the first ballot the jury stood 9 to 3 for conviction. On the second ballot 8 to 4. Many ballots were taken during the night with the final ballot being about the same as the first. The case will have to be tried before another jury.

Three Young Men Attempt Holdup

Authorities Are Seeking Persons Responsible For Wilmington Road Affair

County and city authorities are seeking to locate three young men, who attempted to stage a holdup at the Shady Grove Barbecue and gasoline service station on the Wilmington road at its junction with the road to Wilmington Junction. The attempt was made about 11:30 o'clock last night. The three young men came into the place and one of the group pulled a gun and demanded the money of the proprietor, who was in charge of the place.

The proprietor gave battle and finally the young man with the gun, dropped it and fled along with his two companions. The gun was found on examination, not to have been loaded.

The county authorities were notified and in turn the city authorities, and an effort is being made to locate and arrest the young men wanted in connection with the case.

Recognition Of Soviet Russia Is Step Nearer

Claims Commission Will Try To Adjust Soviet-United States Differences

RESUMPTION OF TRADE SOUGHT

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—Another indication that recognition of Soviet Russia will take place before congress meets, as exclusively reported by International News Service Tuesday, was seen Thursday in the designation of Henry Morgenthau, Jr., governor of the farm credit administration, as coordinator in matters of Russian trade.

Russia has already been granted a $4,000,000 credit in cotton purchasing and is negotiating for $30,000,000 to $75,000,000 more in cotton and non-ferrous metals.

Must Settle Claims

Settlement of American claims is one of the hurdles to Russian recognition. The Czarist government and the Kerensky government that followed it are indebted to the U. S. Treasury to the extent of some $300,000,000, to which must be added the claims of American corporations for property confiscated by the Bolsheviks when they came into power.

Against these claims are those of Moscow for damages to Russian property and loss of life in the American "invasion" of Russia in the latter days of the World War. No amount has ever been fixed.

A mixed claims commission probably will be formed to adjust the claims as was done in the case of conflicting American and German claims arising from the World War.

Favor Recognition

Although stating he was not aware "any definite time" had been fixed for a final consideration of the question, Secretary of State Hull said Thursday he saw no reason why there should be any secrecy of this government's attitude on recognition when this matter was taken up fully and finally.

Pending what he described as full and final consideration of the matter, Hull declined to discuss the attitude of the administration. Hull himself is known to favor recognition.

HOLD THREE LINDBERGH SUSPECTS IN ANTWERP

Attempt To Cash Bank Note Given As Ransom Money

Police Refuse To Divulge Names Or Nationalities Of Men Arrested

CONSUL LETCHER WORKING ON CASE

(International News Service)
ANTWERP, Belgium, Sept. 22.—Charged with attempting to cash an American bank note identified by police as one of the marked bills paid out by Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh in ransom for his kidnapped and murdered baby, three men were arrested here today.

Their names and nationalities were not divulged, but United States Consul Marion Letcher immediately launched an exhaustive investigation.

International News Service learned, however, that one of the prisoners was Polish and another Belgian. The nationality of the third could not be ascertained, but his name was reported to be Kmuler of Kay Mulier.

"I am attempting to determine if the arrested men are Americans and whether they carried American passports," Consul Letcher told International News Service.

Police Secretive
"I am endeavoring to obtain all details. At present the case is in the hands of the Antwerp police." Immediate efforts to obtain information from police officials failed. They maintained an attitude of closest secrecy, but it was considered likely they would communicate as early as possible with United States authorities.

On numerous occasions since Col. Lindbergh's son was kidnapped and murdered in New Jersey a year ago last March, reports have been received of marked bills circulating in Europe.

Such reports, emanating in Switzerland, attracted international attention some months ago but investigation showed them to be false. In the belief his baby was still alive, Col. Lindbergh turned over $50,000 in bills of various denominations to an alleged emissary of the kidnappers. The numbers of these bills were distributed by American treasury officials to banks and police authorities throughout the world, with the result that every American bill of large denomination has been carefully scrutinized whenever it has been made in Europe in this connection.

Steamer Grounds On Pacific Coast

Report Big Motorship Carrying Crew Of 50 Is Caught In "Graveyard Of Pacific"

(International News Service)
LOS ANGELES, Sept. 22.—An S. O. S. was received by Mackay radio station here at 3:30 a. m. from the 1040-ton motorship Beulah which went aground today in a pea-soup fog on Anacapa Island in Santa Barbara channel near the "graveyard of the Pacific."

The Beulah is of Panamanian registry and carries a crew of 50. Mackay advised that the Beulah reported she was in no immediate danger and that the crack coastal passenger liner, H. F. Alexander, southbound from San Francisco, was scheduled to reach the distressed vessel in about three hours.

The "graveyard of the Pacific" has been the scene of many maritime disasters. The million dollar steamship Harvard was lost there two years ago.

Need Of Increased Membership Stressed By Speakers Of Evening

THREE COUNTIES ARE REPRESENTED

First meeting of the Shenango Valley chapter of the Reserve Officers Association of Pennsylvania was held last evening at The Castleton, with a fine attendance of Reserve officers from Lawrence, Butler and Mercer counties. A dinner was served at 6:30 o'clock for those coming to attend and was followed by a conference meeting at 8 o'clock.

ELLIOTT, Ia., Sept. 22.—A woman claims the hay-bailing championship of Iowa. In a match here billed as the state title contest, Miss Lillian Cooper, of Cumberland, bested Lloyd Smith, of Elliott, who won the event last year. Miss Cooper tied 50 bales of hay in 16 minutes. Smith took 30 seconds longer.

At a meeting held last evening in the Elm street Y. W. C. FORD OWNERS SHOULD READ THIS

Your car is an investment in convenient transportation. Yet not even a Ford can give you perfect winter performance unless you protect it against freezing and rust.

Boil-away anti-freezes evaporate during warm spells and leave your car unprotected. Refills are frequent. Tests show many so-called "permanent" anti-freezes break down and cause rust.

At $2.95 a gallon, Eveready Prestone is your most economical buy. One filling lasts all winter—25,000 or more miles of safe, rust-free service. The V-8 takes 2 gallons for protection to zero. All other Fords need only 1 gallon for protection to zero. For other makes, see your dealer's chart.

Eveready Prestone is approved by all car manufacturers. Fully guaranteed by National Carbon Company, Inc., New York, N. Y.

*Based on an average of 20 years, the first freezing weather hits New Castle by Sept. 30. Put in Eveready Prestone now—and be safe.

Martin Suggests Senator Scott For Governor

State Chairman Advances
Center Countian At Dinner In Scott's Honor

ALSO MENTIONED FOR OTHER HONORS

(International News Service)
PHILIPSBURG, Pa., Sept. 22.—A suggestion that he might be the Republican party's candidate for governor of Pennsylvania was left today with the Centre county constituency of Senator Harry B. Scott.

Gen. Edward Martin, Republican state chairman, offered the suggestion last night at a testimonial dinner here to the new president pro tempore of the state senate.

Martin said he knew of no reason why Senator Scott should not join the illustrious line of Centre county men who have been Pennsylvania governors, referring to the county as "the home of governors". No further mention was made of the senator's possible aspirations.

The state chairman himself has been considered an aspirant for the gubernatorial honors, while Senator Scott has been mentioned as a candidate for secretary of internal affairs.

Approximately 300 political leaders and friends of Senator Scott attended the dinner.

Special Session Of Legislature In Ohio Ended

Scenes Of Mutiny And Near Riot Occur As Legislative Session Is Ended

(International News Service)
COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 22.—In scenes of mutiny and near riot, while fists were brandished and cries of "gag rule" were shouted at Speaker Frank Cave, the special session of the legislature came to a wild and stormy end early today without a penny being raised for state-aid schools.

Open rebellion, climaxed by a "rump session" broke out against Cave in the house when he refused to allow debate or roll call on a senate resolution to adjourn, and then declared the resolution passed before the startled legislators knew it had been put to a vote.

The adjournment means that state-aid schools are destined to operate "on faith and credit" for the remainder of 1933.

Patrolman Gets His Man At Last

Pittsburgh Patrolman Hunts For Slayer For 23 Years And Finally Gets Him

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Sept. 22.—Twenty-three years ago a little Italian boy vowed he would bring to justice the man who killed John Russo, his bosom friend, if it was the last thing he ever did.

Today Patrolman Spezzano, who was the little Italian boy, turned Constantino M. Glana, 42, over to detectives here and asked them to compare his description with that of Russo's slayer.

Russo was shot to death in suburban Carnegie by a man whose name was given as "John Priest". Rivalry over the affection of a girl was the motive.

Spezzano, then a boy living in Italy, learned of his friend's death. Seven years later he migrated to the United States and began his hunt for the killer. He became a patrolman on the police force here, to enhance his chances of finding his man.

The patrolman says Glana is the man he was seeking. Detectives are holding Glana for investigation.

Pittston High Students Strike

Report 500 Students Strike In Protest Of Football Restrictions

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Pa., Sept. 22.—Protesting football restrictions that have caused turmoil for a week, 500 students of Pittston High School, mostly boys, declared a strike today. About 700 students remained in their classrooms.

Instead, the marchers went to a local park to organize, as a result, the school's football schedule for the season may be cancelled, it was indicated.

The trouble began when the Athletic Association, composed of faculty members and students, gave members of the varsity squad cards for their parents to sign whereby the association would be relieved of responsibility in accidents or deaths.

The football players refuse to accept the cards and practice was halted.

Defense Starts For Six Accused Of Luer Kidnaping

Nameoki, Illinois, Man Claims That He Was Forced To Drive Car For Kidnapers

(International News Service)
EDWARDSVILLE, Ill., Sept. 22.—Randall Eugene Norvell, Nameoki, Ill., professional bondsman, and one of six persons on trial for their role in the kidnaping of August Luer, elderly Alton banker, admitted from the witness stand today that he had participated in the abduction, but said he did so under threat of death.

Norvell is accused of driving the car in which Luer was spirited away from his Alton residence the night of July 10.

Norvell's appearance on the stand marked the opening of the defense's case, the state having rested yesterday afternoon. In addition to Norvell, the other defendants are Percy Michael Fitzgerald, identified by Mrs. Helen Luer, Luer's wife, as one of the actual snatches; Mrs. Lillian Chessen, said to have proposed Luer as a likely victim; her husband, Charles Chessen; Mike Musiala, owner of the farm where Luer was held in a vegetable cellar, and Christ Nicola Gitcho, owner of a building where Luer is said to have been held temporarily before being removed to Musiala's farm.

Irish O'Malley and Grace Chase, accused as being the other actual kidnapers of Luer with Fitzgerald, have never been apprehended.

Experts Named For Handling Of Relief Project

Roosevelt's Combination Relief And Surplus Removal Program Is Under Way

ACTION WILL START AT ONCE

Contemplates Purchase Of $75,000,000 Worth Of Dairy Products

By EDWARD B. LOCKETT
International News Service Staff
Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—President Roosevelt's $75,000,000 combination relief and surplus removal program got under way today with the appointment by Secretary of Agriculture Wallace of a committee of experts to handle the details.

After a conference with the President Wallace announced Chester Davis, of the production division of the Agriculture department, and L. H. Bean, a department economist, would start to work immediately on the program. He hoped to have the plan in operation within 30 days, Davis and Bean will work in close cooperation with an official of the federal emergency relief organization to be named by Administrator Harry L. Hopkins.

Will Buy Heavily
The program contemplates the purchase of $75,000,000 worth of beef, dairy and poultry products, cotton and cotton seed. After this is purchased by the agriculture department, Hopkins' organization will distribute it to the destitute. The joint objects of the program are to reduce the tremendous surplus in American food and staples as well as to provide relief for the needy.

Wallace said there was a possibility that some corn would be purchased. The president believes this program will in some measure correct what he views as a basic economic maladjustment in the American economic scheme. The move came as a result of conferences between the president, secretary of agriculture Wallace, agricultural adjustment administrator George N. Peek and Hopkins.

Economic Structure
With his aides, the president considered the national economic structure before acting. They saw, on the one hand, a land rich in every life necessary, and on the other a considerable element in that land unable to obtain food and clothing. The combination surplus removal and relief program was the result.

Agricultural recovery and federal relief funds will bear the financial burden of the new program about equally in the end, under the president's scheme. The agriculture department will spend the money first. Then, these purchases will be resold to the relief administration under Hopkins—probably at prices lower than the cost of the products to the agriculture department.

Schwab Goes To Hospital, Needs Good Long Rest

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—Charles M. Schwab, chairman of the board of Bethlehem Steel corporation, was in Doctors hospital today suffering from fatigue.

Schwab entered the hospital last week for a rest and is suffering from no serious ailment, according to the attending physicians, Dr. S. A. Brown and Dr. H. R. Geyling, the physicians added Schwab had not been well since last spring. It was expected he would be released from the hospital shortly.

Farmers Hear Mrs. Pinchot

Wife Of Pennsylvania Governor Asks Farmers To Support Roosevelt

HIGHER PRICES ARE CRYING NEED

(International News Service)

DES MOINES, Ia., Sept. 22.—Agriculture, "the orphan child of American politics," and organized labor must unite to overcome the domination of capitalism and to "control the nation," Mrs. Gifford Pinchot of Pennsylvania had told an enthusiastic farmers' union gathering here today.

The wife of the Pennsylvania governor addressed the convention of farmers last night and called upon the organization to put every effort behind the "new deal" so that President Roosevelt will succeed in his program.

New System.

The world is ready for a new system, she said—a system that will determine "not how to produce more goods but how to put the goods produced into the hands of the people that need them."

When this readjustment is made, farmers and laborers will enjoy leisure and luxury "never dreamed of before," she said.

Mrs. Pinchot made no attempt to discuss the particular problems of Iowa farmers, explaining that she was not familiar with them. "However, I am sure that what the farmer needs is not more credit, but better prices. It is up to you to make Washington realize that the dollar borrowed in 1929 cannot be paid back now at three times that amount."

Had the farmer been able to buy normally there would never have been a depression," the speaker declared. "The farmer is the greatest producer in the nation. His consuming power is the most essential thing to prosperity."

Mining Official Is Buried Today

Miners And Officials Rub Shoulders At Funeral For Pat Mullen, Veteran Miner

(International News Service)

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Sept. 22.—Pat Mullen was buried today and striking miners of Fayette county rubbed shoulders with their bosses at the grave.

Mullen was an official of the H. C. Frick Coke Company, whose mines are the focal point of the "holiday," and had been a Frick employee for 36 years.

Hundreds of miners, company officials and friends attended the funeral services at Masontown and then accompanied the body to Silver Heights cemetery here for burial. Among the company officials was Thomas Moses, president of Frick. The miners were many leaders of the picket lines.

State police and plainclothesmen circulated through the crowds but there was no need for them.

Lawrence County Farms And Farmers

By H. R. McCulloch, County Agent

WHEAT PROGRAM

The attention of Lawrence County Wheat Growers is again called to the announcement of the County Preliminary Wheat Control Association that September 25th is the dead line for signing of Wheat Reduction Applications.

Lawrence County Growers who wish to contract with the Secretary of Agriculture and receive the bonus paid for that reduction, should file their application with members of the Preliminary Board at once. The contract will call for a reduction of 15% in acreage over the average number of acres grown for the past three years.

Members of the preliminary board from whom application blanks may be secured are:

J. C. Brittain, New Gallie, Penna.
E. W. Moore, Volant, Pa., R. D. No. 1.
J. E. Carr, Volant, Pa., R. D. No. 1.
William Davis, Mahoningtown, Pa., R. D. No. 8.

G. L. Reno, Wampum, Pa., R. D. No. 1.

HOW TO STORE VEGETABLES TO KEEP

Three conditions are essential in the storage of vegetables for winter use. Of these, temperature and moisture are the most important. Ventilation must be available to modify temperature and moisture when either of these fluctuate from the ideal for the vegetable stored.

Peppers, tomatoes, and eggplants should be harvested before severe frosts and placed in a warm place. The temperature requirements are from 50 to 60 degrees Fahrenheit. A dry to medium moist atmosphere is best. Ventilation should be medium.

IMPROVE DAIRY HERD BY REDUCING COSTS

Dairying is a mainstay of the agriculture of Lawrence County. In the present situation in the dairy industry it is more important than ever for dairy farmers to fence out or to eliminate from their herds any factors that tend to keep costs in milk production at a high level.

Low-producing cows and lack of careful attention in feeding and management are probably the main cause of serious losses in the herds of our county. A careful check-up should be made on the work of each cow in the herd, and all cows with low milk-producing ability should be sold. Other cows in the herd that should have careful attention are those which have a short milking period. Many cows with a large production at the beginning of the milking period are often very poor performers 6 or 8 months later. Such cows usually have had a rather low total milk production to their credit at the close of their lactation period. Cows having injured udders and those afflicted with garget or other udder disease should have careful attention, too.

All dairymen should study carefully their herds and before winter begins to remove all cows whose presence in the herd lessens the opportunity for making a profit during the winter.

SELECT GOOD RAM AS HEAD OF FARM FLOCK

One sheepman has wisely said "A good ram is half of the flock". Early in the season is the time to select the head of the farm flock. Early selection gives the purchaser an opportunity to pick a good ram from the flock of his choice. If the sheepman waits too long he may be disappointed. Good rams can be obtained at extremely reasonable figures this fall.

Several of the county wool growers' associations in the state are making it convenient for their members to get good serviceable sires at auctions conducted by the organizations.

Cumberland county and Susquehanna county breeders already have had such sales. Indiana county growers will have an auction September 26, the Northwestern Sheepmen September 27 at Titusville, and the Lawrence-Mercer County producers Field Day will be October 14. Remember, that to-day the difference between lambs selling at $8.00 a hundred pounds and $5.00 a hundred depends on finish and quality. This proves conclusively that good management and proper breeding always pays dividends.

PUT PLANTING AREAS IN SHAPE THIS FALL

Planting of landscaping materials will be expedited next spring if the areas to be used are prepared this fall.

For plants which tolerate acid soil, the planting areas should be dug out 12 to 18 inches deep and the space filled with a mixture of soil containing such materials as well-rotted hardwood sawdust, oak leaves, peat, pine or hemlock needles.

For plants that do not thrive well in acid soil, the planting areas should be covered with well-rotted barnyard manure or a complete fertilizer dug under the depth of a spade or two.

Where planting areas are filled with building debris, this material should be removed this fall and replaced with good soil.

National Farm Outlook

By ARTHUR H. JENKINS
Editor The Farm Journal
Written for Central Press

With the final agreement at London on an international program for the wheat-growing industry, the great wheat campaign here is now about to open, with a bang. The details of it have marked time for several weeks, until we could find out how big a cut in wheat acreage would be in the world agreement as finally signed. It turns out to be 15 per cent, and on this basis the great wheat allotment battle now is opening.

It was more than two years ago that a similar wheat conference was held in London, with the same object—a plan to regulate the movement of wheat in the world.

markets that prices could be advanced to a reasonable figure.

That effort failed, and indeed never even came near success. The American delegate said that it was a waste of time to ask this country to restrict production or exports, because our government did not possess power to do either one. The Russian delegate said that they had the power, but would not agree to be limited in any way. Whereupon the conference naturally broke up.

The picture in 1933 is quite different. In two years we have discovered, or at least think we have discovered, that our government can do things it never believed it could do. Russia remains determined to export wheat whenever she feels like it, but having at present less than enough grain for her own people it makes no difference what her determinations are.

Indeed, the hanger-back in 1933 were other nations—Australia among the exporting big four, and one or two of the European importing nations, who were concerned that the high prices paid their own wheat growers should not be affected. Eventually all interests were won over, and an agreement, the first of its kind, was completed.

The United States, Canada, Argentina and Australia are each to cut wheat acreage 15 per cent for 1933-34; they are allowed up to July 31, 1934 exports of 47 million, 200 million, 110 million and 105 million bushels, respectively. Argentina and Australia are, however, allowed to restrict exports 15 per cent instead of cutting acreage if they prefer to do that.

The importing nations are not to further encourage wheat growing, and are to relax quotas and lower tariff duties after the world wheat price, fixed at Liverpool, rises above a certain level.

Mining Officials Severely Burned

Three Officials Of Wyoming Mine in Wilkes-Barre, Pa., Section Burned By Blast

(International News Service) WILKES-BARRE, Sept. 22.—Three officials of the Wyoming valley collieries company were burned severely, and more than 100 miners barely escaped with their lives Thursday in a gas explosion at the Harry E. Mine at Swoyerville. John Bigger, Luzerne, a fireboss, was burned about the entire body and may die, hospital attaches said. The others seriously burned were John Marshall, Forty Fort, superintendent, and John T. Dailey, Forty Fort, a foreman.

The presence of the three officials was occasioned by plans to open a new section of the mine.

Though official confirmation was lacking, the theory was that a premature blast set off a collection of gas in the pit. The blast resulted in the closing of that part of the operation.

Two Workmen Electrocuted

(International News Service) CARBONDALE, Pa., Sept. 22.—Two men were electrocuted Thursday when a pipe they were using to fill a silo on a farm at Clifford, near here came into contact with a heavily charged electric cable.

The victims were Robert Bridge, 40, father of seven children and Oliver Elmendorf, 56, both Carbondale suburbs. Physicians said the men met instant death.

Bessemer Shops Working Full

(International News Service) GREENVILLE, Pa., Sept. 22.—Operations at the Bessemer and Lake Erie railroad shops went on full Thursday for the first time since early in 1931. More than 850 employees who have been working about sixty percent were affected.

BUY FOREST LAND HARRISBURG.—Nine purchases of woodlands totaling 6,500 acres, made during the past summer, bring the total acreage of Pennsylvania state forest to 1,647,850 acres, according to Alfred E. Rupp, chief of the bureau of lands in the Department of Forests and Waters.

cut gem exceeded in size only by the Cullinan diamond, was reported from Bello Horizonte, state of Minas Gernas Thursday.

New Social Order Needs Talked At Y Conference

The needs of girls who are out of school and out of work were earnestly discussed by Y. W. C. A. committee women and club girls at their Fall setting-up conference at Camp Eastbrook this week.

Discuss Many Problems

The whole conference was broken up into three groups with Mrs. A. B. Fankhauser, Mrs. J. Glenn Berry and Miss Alice Sterling leading the discussions on present needs and suggested solutions. In each group the need of having something worthwhile to do with so much leisure time was expressed. The need to keep in practice for a possible future job as well as keeping fit physically and spiritually were brought out. Lack of proper clothing, lack of contacts with boy friends, lack of home-making ability, lowered morale, feeling that she is not needed and the need of some form of self expression were discussed with deep concern because they affected so many Y. W. C. A. members.

The program of the Y. W. C. A. which was suggested to meet these needs will be referred to new committees next week who will endeavor to secure leaders and teachers for whatever classes are demanded. There will be many entirely free classes and there will be no fee for any girl who is out of work for any class. The subjects which were suggested at the Conference were:

dramatics, music, home making, (including cooking, remodeling clothes and quilting) gym classes, basketball, review shorthand, English, beauty culture, boy and girl discussion groups on how we happen to be in such a social dilemma and ways out of the present conditions.

Pledge Aid To NRA

The group which was made up of home women, high school girls, business and professional women and unemployed girls, went on record recommending that "the Y. W. C. A. use its influence as an organization and as individuals for a better understanding of the National Recovery Act and in furthering the purpose of the Act."

The committee members in charge of the program for the setting-up conference were Mrs. Robert Eckles chairman; (adviser for Good Will Graduate Club): Mrs. J. Glenn Berry, camp and finance committee; Miss Alice Sterling, public affairs chairman; Mrs. Raymond Williams, secretary of Elm street branch board of management; Miss Alice Joyce, business girls' club program chairman; Miss Marian Wilson, Girl Reserve secretary; Mrs. H. M. Kirk, chairman, International Institute committee; Mrs. Wm. J. Caldwell, chairman music committee; Mrs. A. B. Fankhauser president of the Y. W. C. A., and Miss Marguerite White, general secretary. The general theme was "Y. W. C. A. Preparation For a New Social Order."

ELLWOOD PRIMED FOR NEW CASTLE

Blue and White Ready For Titular Clash At Taggart Stadium

Record Crowd Expected To Attend; Ellwood And New Castle Bands Perform

ELLWOOD CITY, Sept. 22.—Excitement and determination grips Ellwood City today as the zero hour, 8:30 p. m., slowly approaches, when a well conditioned and trained Blue and White eleven will enter Taggart Stadium to do battle with another "Red Hurricane" of New Castle High School, coached by Phil H. Bridenbaugh.

This titular clash still prevails as the most colorful and important game on the Ellwood High schedule in view of the preparations being made by high school students and local people. Two rousing pep meetings have been held in the city. The graduates and older folks couldn't help catch the spirit of the high school students as the hour of the game nears.

A big motor cavalcade carrying students and local people is due to arrive in New Castle about 8:15. Several trucks will be making the trip with full loads.

Bands To Perform
Those who remember the performance of the Ellwood and New Castle High School bands last year will make every effort to attend the game tonight, not only to see a splendid contest but also to watch the two bands display their stuff again tonight. The Ellwood band which was greatly increased last year, has obtained quite a reputation in this district. It has been drilled in marching by the local American Legion Post. Prof. Paul Winter will be the director. The New Castle High band needs no introduction anywhere.

Aerial Game Expected
A real fast and exciting game is expected when the Benedict coached eleven takes to the air. The value of its passing attack has been already demonstrated. It is said to have been improved during the week. The varsity squad of 33 men is in splendid shape and is primed for the contest. It is a determined and spirited eleven that will match plays with the Red and Black tonight. The squad is in fine physical condition. Two of the things to mar Ellwood's hopes this evening is the injury to Jack Steckman, regular left guard and Bettoni, right end. Steckman is definitely out for at least five more weeks with a fractured bone in his left hand. Bettoni has an injury to his knee that has kept him out of serious training all week and is doubtful whether he will start. He will be replaced either by Sam Cusato or Tammaro, both good boys. Bettoni and Jeannette were a pair of hard ends to get around. Manzo will replace Steckman at left guard.

Paired with big husky Jimmy Loccasiano the left side of the blue and white line will give the New Castle backs plenty of trouble. The right side will be made up with Wilbur Kaufman and Red Rocco at guard and tackle respectively. These two are both husky and capable. A well balanced backfield of Ken Bunney at quarter, "Wishy" Franus at left-half, Al Beane at right-half, and Milt Luxenberg at full, will be ready to take advantage of any opportunity that may arise.

New Castle will present somewhat of a crippled line-up against this array. Alex Shellog has not been out for practice all week. Howley the center and Rawskowski the guard have been nursing injuries. "Whitney" Nickum has not scrimmaged all week and may not get into the game unless absolutely necessary. One consolation that Head Coach Bridenbaugh has is that there are capable replacements, which has been demonstrated against Brad-dock High last week.

Coach "Gazzy" Benedict and his assistant Mike Ferrare are not very optimistic as to their chances with the mighty New Castle eleven but they feel that the red and black cannot take things easy tonight. They have been pleased with the spirit and attitude of the local eleven towards this game and are confident that the team will give a good accounting of itself.

In case of rain the game will be played on Saturday afternoon. Complete lineups and numbers appear on the sports page of this issue.

Gives His Views Regarding Township School Project

Wurttemberg, Pa., Sept. 19, 1933.

Editor News:—
Have a few things on my mind in regard to the school situation. Mr. Meehan in a recent letter to your paper gave the views of the school board on the matter of increasing the indebtedness of the township; and he bases his calculations on the fact that the township has no debt. Well let us see: First, the township has a bonded debt to the amount of eight thousand dollars; second, the board owes Ellwood City for tuition $12,000, and Wayne township has this to pay. He sets against this $17,000 in tax which is laid against taxpayers. This perhaps can be collected but personally I think when it is there is going to be a lot of weeping in Ramah—and things are going to be in a mess unless there is a reduction of the school term which in my opinion would be a great calamity. Suppose then the board does make a bond issue of two per cent of the assessed valuation that would increase the debt to $37,000 and necessitate an increased millage to finish the building which would raise the debt to $40,000; and know enough about building school houses to know you can not figure an unbuilt building's cost until the last brushful of paint is on and dried. Therefore I suggest to the people of Wayne township that they make haste slowly in this case. Let us wait a year and see how the board comes out with this year's millage, see if they can break even and pay the bond due next year and clear up some of the other debt, and see whether then this step would be justified. Let us maintain our schools at their present standard which at this time are very good and as to the board they are entitled to the backing of every citizen of this township who is really and truly American. They have a thankless job and one that requires moral stamina and the ability to do things that will be for the best interests of all the people. Perhaps this letter is a little long, perhaps some may not think it worth while reading so if it escapes the waste basket maybe I will be a lucky guy. But anyway here's hoping.

Very truly yours,

Guard Home Of Federal Lawyer

Home In Washington Of Assistant Attorney General Is Well Guarded

(International News Service) WASHINGTON, Sept. 22.—The capital home of Joseph B. Keenan, assistant attorney general, was under the guard of department of justice operatives today, as the southwest awaited the latest move of the desperado George "Machine Gun" Kelly. Within the home are Keenan's wife and four young children. The guards have been on duty there since the assistant attorney general left for Oklahoma City where he is leading the government's legal fight against members of the Harvey Bailey gang, now on trial for the abduction of Charles F. Urschel. Kelly has threatened death to Keenan but his wife feels the threats are idle bravado, and expresses no fear for her husband, her children or herself.

New Castle And Ellwood Play Here Tonight

Lawrence County School Teams Ready For Battle

New Castle And Ellwood City Will Play Under Lights At Taggart Field

Starting Time Of Game Is 8:30 o'clock Fast Time; Locals Crippled Up

Tonight at Taggart Field, weather permitting, New Castle high school football team and Ellwood City high school football team will play their annual grid game. The starting time for the kickoff is 8:30 o'clock fast time and the gates will open at 7:15 according to Faculty Manager Ralph Gardner. Both teams are eager for the battle. Head Coach Philip H. Bridenbaugh has a slightly crippled lineup tonight to stop the invading forces coached by "Ganzy" Benedict. Ellwood City will come to New Castle tonight with hopes high.

When New Castle trots out on the field to match plays with Ellwood tonight, they will probably be minus Alex "Possum" Shello, the big 190-pound tackle, who has a badly injured knee and has not been out for practice all week. Walter Raskowski, the veteran guard, is also ailing with a knee and leg injury and may not see action. Joe Howley at center is also under the weather and may be replaced by McPeak at center.

Regulars Injured
Taking it all in all, New Castle has not for quite some time faced a football game with so many of the regulars out of the picture. Charles "Whitey" Nickum, the phenomenal young halfback, has not scrimmaged this week and will not get in the game unless absolutely needed, according to Bridenbaugh.

Should Alex Shello not be able to play, big "Gob" Falkovitch will take his place, and if Raskowski is not fit for play it is possible that big Frank Humphrey will fill in at right guard. The New Castle backfield will contain Ridley as signal barker, Lane and Charles James at the halves and Captain Walter Kominic at fullback.

Coach "Ganzy" Benedict is bringing a crackerjack team to Pa. New's domain this evening. Those who have seen Ellwood City in action this year predict that New Castle will be hard pressed. Ellwood is featuring a deceptive forward passing attack. New Castle has been drilling all week long on how to break up this passing combination. The answer will come tonight out on the green floor of that beautiful stadium under the lights when the blue and white clad backfield men start throwing them in all directions.

Tough Going
The New Castle line is going to find the going tough tonight. Ellwood City will also have a powerful array of linemen, led by Loccasiano and Rocco, the tackles who tip the scales around the 185 and 190 pound mark. Ellwood's guards are not heavy, but are fast and do good work in leading the interference.

In the backfield Ellwood City will have a weight advantage of several pounds. Bunny and Franus will weigh 150 and 160 pounds. Kominic is the heaviest man in the New Castle backfield and will only go 170.

New Castle won from Ellwood City last year and this will serve to make the Ellwoodians fight all the harder to even the score. Benedict has hopes of holding New Castle in check this year. Coach Bridenbaugh is anxious to repeat the victory over Ellwood, but the outlook is gloomy, due to three or four of the New Castle regulars being on the bench with injuries.

Bands to Play
Ellwood City will bring their splendid 50-piece high school band to New Castle tonight and the band will sit with the students on the west side of the field. The Ellwood City high student body will find seats in one section for them tonight. The New Castle band will also be at the game 80 pieces strong and full of pep and good music as usual.

The prices for the game tonight will remain the same as for the opening encounter. The "kiddies" section at the extreme northern end of the field will sell for 10 cents per seat. The other seats sell for 25, 50 and 75 cents.

With both Ellwood City and New Castle sporting early season victories over Union High and New Castle over Braddock, the followers of both teams are anxiously awaiting the clash tonight. Taggart field should be comfortably filled tonight. This is always one of the best games on the entire program.

Lineups For Tonight

Head Coach Philip H. Bridenbaugh of New Castle high school football team and Coach George "Ganzy" Benedict of Ellwood City high school today announced the probable starting lineups for the annual grid game at Taggart field tonight. The New Castle team will be arrayed in red jerseys with white numerals. Ellwood City will wear blue jerseys with white shoulder strips and white numbers on their backs.

The starting time of the game is 8:30 o'clock Daylight Savings time. The gates will open at 7:15 o'clock.

Giants Given Fine Welcome In New York

Mayor O'Brien And New York Officials Give Giants Big Rousing Cheers

TERRY CONFIDENT OF CHAMPIONSHIP

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—Engulfed in a wave of baseball enthusiasm, which reached a pre-series climax as the New York Giants, champions of the National League, were officially welcomed at City Hall Thursday, New York was distinctly World Series conscious today. The Giants have taken the town by storm.

A wave of applications for seat reservations for the series was announced today, seemingly assuring a sell-out for all games at the Polo Grounds, which has a capacity of 48,000.

With Washington also reporting a complete sellout, the series, featuring the two boy managerial wonders, Billy Terry and Joe Cronin, promises to be a big money engagement, possibly the biggest in baseball since the boom-time heyday of the New York Yankees.

Giants Resting
The Giants were resting again today. Light showers caused their game with Brooklyn to be called off yesterday but tomorrow the National champions will face the Dodgers in a double-header. Hubbell, Schumacher and Fitzsimmons, Giant hurling aces, who are to shoulder the series responsibility, will probably tune up with games next week as the regular season closes.

Manager Terry of the Giants, while happy in receiving New York's official praise and the applause of thousands of fans, was a bit worried today. No word has yet been received from Judge K. M. Landis, commissioner of baseball, relative to Terry's application to qualify Charley Dreesen, formerly manager of Nashville's club, to play in the series. Terry is hoping for the best so that he will be able to use Dreesen at third base in the event Travis Jackson's knees give out.

But with or without Dreesen, Terry was confident of victory over Washington.
"Pick the Giants to win the World Series," he said to newspapermen, "I would not listen when I told you in Los Angeles that we had a pennant winner—but you're getting another chance now to call the turn. So don't miss it. Stick with the Giants. They'll win."

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Jean Kyer of Ann Arbor, reached the semi-finals of the Berthelley cup play at Philadelphia yesterday when she beat Frances Williams of Allentown. She won with a par three on the twenty first hole after her opponent partly stymied herself and was unable to drop an 18-inch putt. She will face Mrs. Dorothy Hurd of Merion, thrice winner of the cup in the semi-finals today. Fritz Stifel, Wheeling, will meet Jane McCullough, Abington, Pa., she beat Eleanor Wilson, Wallingford, five and three and Mrs. Hurd beat Carolyn Babcock of Los Angeles, 6-1, 6-2, to reach her present status. Jiro Satoh, Jap star, upset Don Turnbull, Los Angeles, 7-5, 6-2.

MI Peter won the Castleton stake after four hard heats at Lexington, Thursday. In the Transylvania, raced as a handicap in two divisions, the first decision went to Vansandt in 2:05, the fastest mile ever trotted in this country from a standing start. Under the conditions he didn't start in the second division won by Calumet Bush. Adela T. driven by Shull, won the main pacing event at Arden Downs in 2:15 1-4, 2:15 and 2:13 at Washington.

Dorothy Round, England, eliminated Mrs. Lawrence Harper, Oakland, defending champion in the semi-finals of the Pacific Southwest women's singles yesterday at Los Angeles, 6-1, 6-2. She will oppose Alice Marble, San Francisco, in the semi-finals today. Miss Marble beat Carolyn Babcock of Los Angeles, 6-1, 6-2, to reach her present status. Jiro Satoh, Jap star, upset Don Turnbull, Los Angeles, 7-5, 6-2.

Southern Cal Picked To Win

Sport Writer Picks Trojans To Win Championship On Coach Again

WASHINGTON IS PICKED SECOND

By GEORGE T. DAVIS
International News Service Sports Writer
LOS ANGELES, Sept. 22.—The overture is ended, the stage is set, the players are ready!

And an anxious audience awaits the ringing up of the curtain on the 1933 football season!

What have back-stage observations disclosed?

This is the question of the hour along the rail of sports, and for those who cannot wait for tomorrow's performances to make their own deductions we'll present a dress-rehearsal.

Once again we find the University of Southern California's Trojans in a feature role, ready to defend their national championship laurels of the last two years. And it doesn't look as though any team on the Pacific Coast, or even Notre Dame in the Mid-West, can dispute the claim of the title-holders.

Here is the way that I size up the Pacific Coast teams just before the kick-off:
1.—Southern California.
2.—Washington.
3.—St. Mary's.
4.—California.
5.—Washington State.
6.—Stanford.
7.—U. C. L. A.

(International News Service)
BUFFALO, N. Y., Sept. 22.—Buffalo's Bison moved ahead today in the International league playoffs against Rochester for the right to meet Columbus, American Association winner, in the world's little series. Buffalo defeated the Red Wings here last night 18 to 7 and now has three victories to two for Rochester in the best four of seven-game series.

Westminster college opens the 1933 football season here Saturday when Coach John Lawther's men stack up against the strong Slippery Rock State Teachers' college eleven.

The Titans, with one of the smallest squads in years, will be lighter both in the backfield and on the line this season. Slippery Rock will have a light backfield, but a heavier line than Westminster. Coaches Lawther and Martin of the Titans have been warning their men that Johnnie Uram, former New Castle high star, will have to be watched closely if the Teacher team is to be defeated. During the past week the Titan mentors have been stressing forward pass defense, believing that Coach Thompson will have his men resort to the air game in order to spread the Titan defense so that Uram can surprise with

Notre Dame Team Is Mystery, Coach Not So Impressed

Coach "Hunk" Anderson Says "I Don't Know How Good This Year's Team Will Be"

Other Schools In Mid-West Look For Powerful Teams—Many Good Games This Fall

By JOHN C. HOFFMAN,
International News Service Sports Writer

CHICAGO, Sept. 22.—Surveys of the middle-western football camps today disclosed a situation that augurs none too well for the inter-sectional hopes of the young men in the East, South and Far West.

In their luncheon talks, the coaches are predicting that the Middle-West will have made a name for itself when such contests as the Stanford-Notre Dame, Dartmouth-Chicago, Ohio State-Pennsylvania, Pittsburgh-Minnesota, S. California-Notre Dame and Notre Dame-Army games have been played.

Mystery Team
Any survey of the situation, as it exists hereabouts, must necessarily begin at Notre Dame, where Coach Hunk "Hunk" Anderson is working on something of a mystery team, and conclude with a big ten that is preparing a season which may be identified with the new deal, the N. R. A. and a reawakening of the rah-rah spirit among the customers.

"Only fair, now," was Coach Anderson's appraisal of some 100 zealous huskies, most of them unknown, who reported for punishment after Hunk had invited only 65. "I don't know what these kids can do. They may be world beaters and again they may be terrible."

A mystery team, indeed. But the mystery may lie in how many touchdowns the opposition will score against the Irish, if any.

"We'll miss George Melinkovich," said Hunk. "And we'll miss Jack Robinson and Dick Pfeiffer."

Fullback Melinkovich will not be around until the second semester. Both Pfeiffer and Robinson underwent recent operations.

Other than that there will be a football season, Coach Anderson is certain of nothing. What he will be able to do with such of the young men as Tony Mazzotti, Don Elser, Frank Gail, and Walter Fromhart, in the backfield he doesn't know. The coach admits, however, that Mazzotti can remember signals and should do well at quarter.

There is a quantity of guards around for employment, but what he will do with them is yet a matter for speculation. Joe Pivank and Rocco Shirrell are the best of these. Steve Banas is back and so is Nick Lukats, but where they will fit into the backfield Coach Anderson is wondering. Then there are Andy Pilney and Bill Shakespeare.

Will Miss Newman
The loss to Michigan of Harry Newman throws the Big Ten race into something of a four cornered proposition with the Wolverines, Ohio State, Purdue and Northwestern seeking the title.

Michigan won't need Newman, as for the others, Wisconsin will still have its Doc Spears, Chicago will be interesting with Clark Shaughnessy and Minnesota will start slowly and finish quickly. Illinois, Iowa and Indiana, to say the least, will be playing games.

quick thrusts through the line and around end.
Slippery Rock will start a line averaging about 176 pounds, while the Titans will have a starting line-up which averages 178 pounds. The Slippery Rock backfield will average about 158 pounds while the Titan backfield will average 159 pounds.

The probable starting lineups:
Westminster Slippery Rock
Hunnike L. E. Kimberland
Hollander L. T. Komara
Burry L. G. Perkossy
Blokner C. G. Nocera
Young R. G. Morrell
Franklin R. T. Stonis
Lu Buno R. E. Smith
Sweeney Q. B. Rogers
Ketterer L. H. Uram
Leyshock R. H. Forker
Staples F. B. Weitzel
Referee D. W. Very; umpire, D. W. Merriman; lineman, J. M. Holmes. Game starts at 2:30, standard time.

Elder A. C. Wins From Colonials

D. Quinn Allows Colonials But One Hit In Game At Elders Field

Elder A. C. baseball team topped the Colonial A. C. last night at Elders Field 9 to 0, in a game that featured D. Quinn the Elder hurler who gave up but one hit. He fanned four men. The game was terminated at the end of the fourth by darkness. J. Quinn with a triple was the feature hitter. Maki had two doubles and Llewellyn also had a double. Axe and Crammer did the pitching for the Colonials and were found for eight hits.

This was the fourth game of the series and it is even at two apiece. The series has been called off due to the change in time.

Score by innings:
Colonial A. C. 000—0 1 1
Elder A. C. 900—9 8 1
Batteries—Colonial A. C., Axe, Crammer and Sweet; Elder A. C., D. Quinn and V. Ross. Umpires—Hartman and Bentley.

Senators Will Look At Freak Giant Pitching

Hubbell, Schumacher And Fitzsimmons All Throw Special Kind Of Baseballs

SENATORS ARE BEST HITTERS

(This is the third of a series of stories by Davis J. Walsh, International News Service sports editor, presenting contrasting views of the two clubs that will meet in the 1933 World Series.)

By DAVIS J. WALSH
International News Service Sports Editor

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—Continuing what may seem to be a somewhat eccentric treatment of the World Series situation, we have the fact today that most of the Washington Senators will be looking at a left handed screw ball for the first time when they face Carl Hubbell in the opening game of the World Series on October 3. They also will be looking at a new kind of knuckler from Fred Fitzsimmons in the second game. Likewise an overhead sinker from Schumacher in the third game, this being distinguished from those thrown by Wilcy Moore, Mel Harder and others by the fact that theirs have a side-arm fade.

These statements, offered at random and for what they may be worth, probably look the part of an eccentric approach to the situation because they do not, in the routine and perfunctory way, deal with what has already happened. Instead, they confine themselves to what can and maybe will happen two weeks hence, this having appealed to my childlike simplicity as being important.

Whereas, if I'd gone in for clean living and right thinking and kept away from the car barns, I'd know that what really was significant was that somebody hit himself a home run last week in a game that didn't matter against a pitcher who didn't care.

Hurlers Fool Them
Anyhow, this apparently is to be a series of many contradictions. The Giant pitching would look like the better of the two if it wasn't for the fact the Giant hitting can't make the other guy look bad. At the same time the American League hasn't seen a left handed screw ball since Pruett passed away some years ago and Fitzsimmons' knuckler ought to do all right in view of the fact that at times the Senators haven't been able to hit Ted Lyons with a bed slat.

Altogether, they'll get three kinds of pitching through the early games, while the Giants will see nothing that is at all unorthodox. Crowder, they say, is the kind of pitcher the hitters like to go back after a second and third time, although his record hardly indicates the hitters have benefited accordingly. Whitehill is just one of those straightaway pitchers with a fast ball and a good curve. Stewart, it seems, is a one-game pitcher. However, they tell me that big Weaver may go in there

Union High At Evans City For Football Game

Union High Gridders Playing At Evans City This Afternoon

COACH BOYD HAS CHANGED LINEUP

Union high school football team is playing at Evans City this afternoon. The game will start at 4:30 o'clock, according to Mr. Burkhardt, the new faculty manager at Union high. Coach "Pop" Boyd took his team to Evans City at 1:30 p. m., the trip being made in a bus.

The Unionites will enter the game today as the favorites due to their victory last year over Evans City, and judging from the smoothness which the Boyd combination has shown in practice this week, Boyd has shifted some of his regulars around and today's game will find fullback instead of tackle, and will find Nugay on an end job instead of in the backfield. Morrison is being hard pressed by Sanders for a halfback job today. Mateja is battling Jones for a guard post and may start in place of the veteran Jones.

Union will present a different team than the one that lost to Ellwood City last Saturday 19 to 0. Coach Gregory thinks that his Evans City team is due to click this year. Both teams will be about evenly matched in weight and size. Coach Boyd is banking on Captain Georgacz to do a lot of ball carrying today and to play a great defensive game.

The probable lineups—
Evans City Union High
Porter R. E. Weimer
Hershey R. T. Schaa
Liken R. G. Jones-Mateja
Loren C. C. Richey
Poncho L. G. White
Radkiss L. T. Gierlach
Cashdollar L. E. Nugay-Kirker
Kaufman Q. B. Todd
Weson L. H. Monico
Sarver R. H. Moron-Sanders
Painter F. B. Georgacz
Referee—Molder, Umpire—Jones
Linesman—L. Smith.

Nine Races At Fair Track Today

Postponed Boxing Bout To Be Staged At Bowl Soon

"OLD MAN RAIN" HANDICAPS SPORTS

Fall weather is tricky and anyone who gambles on an open air proposition is tempting the fates. It would seem from what happened at the New Castle Fair ground. Rain not only knocked out 16 boxing bouts but also one day of racing. However, the boxing will be staged at the Castle bowl October 2 but the racing will be held this afternoon at the race track.

A. C. Shoaf, speed secretary of the Lawrence County Agricultural association which sponsored what promised to be two days of real sport, hasn't permitted the weather to creep under his hide and today there will be five running races, a trio of harness events and a race between four mules harnessed to sulkeys.

Judging from the zip that was displayed by the fans when the runners came down on parade and later got away from the barrier, they've gone for the runners and it wouldn't be surprising were they continued annually as participants in the race program. At any rate there's a good program on at the race track this afternoon.

Good Reputations
There were some rather nifty boxers on what was to have been a two days program. Those who were ready to enter the ring and prevented by cold weather and rain were paid for their expenses by the New Castle Fair association.

Ed. Fritz, who acted as the matchmaker next pleased the fighters by stating that he, as the matchmaker for the Jefferson A. C. would honor all contracts the boys had at the fair ground and quite a few of them will meet at the bowl, October 2.

Here is the list that will be presented on that date: George Rocco vs Jack Smith; Tommy Atkinson vs Tony Adamo; Joey Evans vs Young Talerico; Custy Marino vs Sammy Cretella; Lew Tamber vs Yankee Pagley; Frankie Cantanese vs Gene Carlines; Larry Weaver vs Frankie Rachig and others.

Adamo lost by a technical knock-out to Atkinson. However, many of the fans saw him unintentionally "kneed" by Atkinson. The pain was so intense he passed out when hit after he got up from the floor. As the decision between Tamber and Pagley was boothed, they will box again.

Young Talerico is as fast as greased lightning and Joey Evans a Welshman from Ellwood City will have his work cut out for him, as will the other lads on the card. The fans like the A. A. U. boxers and as rain cannot enter the enclosed bowl the fans will now await October 2.

Golf Leaguers Plan Big Event

Party Next Thursday Evening At Munny Club House To Be Attractive Affair

Next Thursday evening's party at the Municipal clubhouse, under the auspices of the New Castle Golf league, promises to be more than just an ordinary affair.

Mrs. William G. Fleming, wife of the manager of the Munny course, is in charge of the program of the evening, and the affair is not only for the league members, but all their friends who are golf-minded. There will be an attractive door prize, cards, a musical entertainment, which will feature numbers by Tommy Blake, Billy Williams and his quartet, and a comedy skit under the direction of Lew Pearsall, and plenty of eats.

Tickets have been placed in the hands of the various team captains and at least a hundred golfers are expected to be present for the evening.

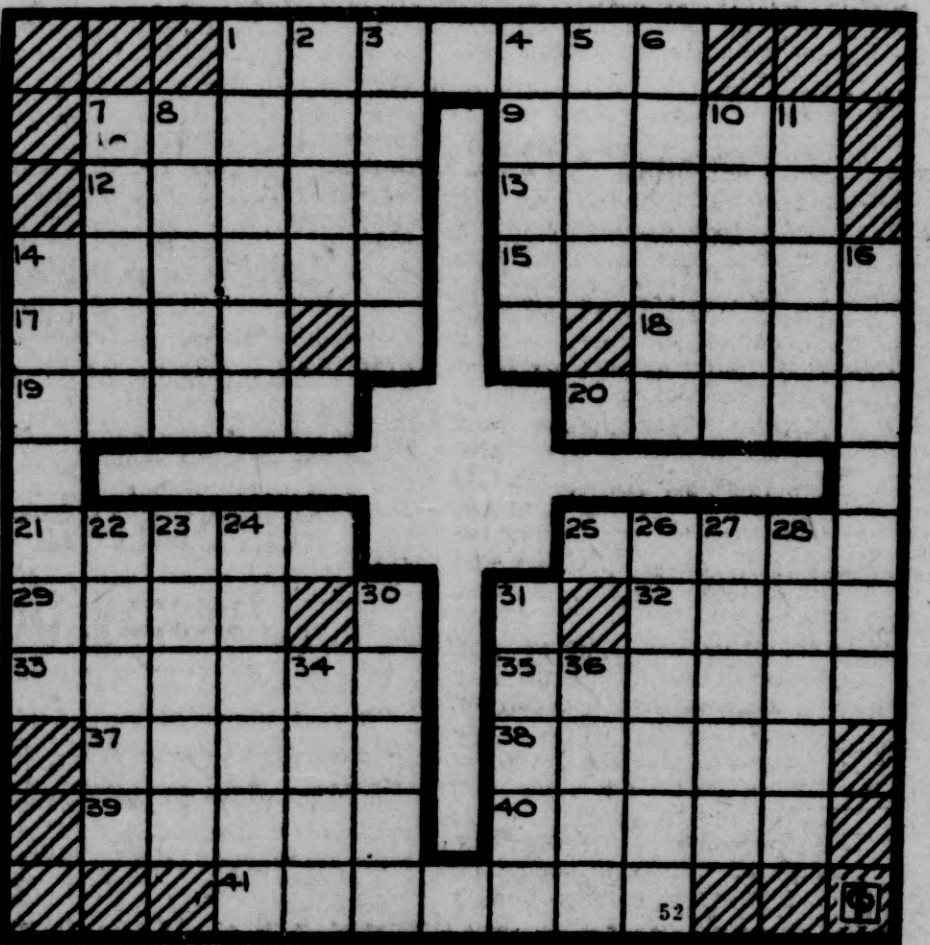

Senators Are Made Favorites

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Sept. 22—Jack Doyle, Broadway's leading betting commissioner, today made the Senators favorites over the Giants for the world series, but has installed the Giants favorites for the first game.

For the series he is laying 6 to 5 Giants and 7 to 10 Senators. For the first game the prices are: Giants 4 to 5; Senators even money. Doyle says this will be the heaviest betting series in years and thinks the Giants may enter the series favorites.

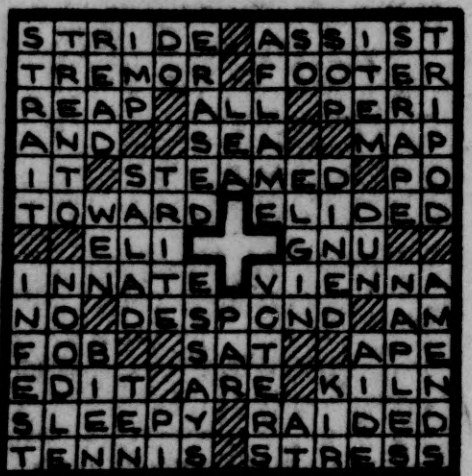

New York City health officials have just made a new regulation forbidding anybody to trade in wild animals without a license. Tamber must be afraid of being sold out.—Philadelphia Evening Bulletin.

Wheat Decline
Lowers Prices

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—A further sharp decline in the wheat market brought a renewal of liquidation into the stock market today snagging a brisk opening rally and sending the main body of issues to new lows on the move.

The selling was centered chiefly on the rails and the pivotal industrial stocks including United States Steel, Chrysler, General Motors and others of like character.

United States Steel after rallying to 48-1/4 for a gain of more than half a point broke below yesterday's close. Chrysler dipped about a point and General Motors nearly a point.

The liquor shares were decidedly weak with National Distillers, American Commercial Alcohol and Commercial Solvents losing more than a point.

Railroad shares including New York Central, Pennsylvania, Union Pacific, and Southern Railway were sold freely and lost from fractions to more than a point. The gold mining shares were heavy in sympathy with the rest of the list.

The commodity markets were mixed with cotton up about 50 cents a bale over yesterday's close and wheat down more than 2 cents a bushel.

Trading was heavy throughout the forenoon session with the ticker falling behind several times.

Princeton Looks For Great Team; Colgate Will Not Be As Strong

By PAT ROBINSON
International News Service
Writer

NEW YORK, Sept. 22.—Eastern football today has only one candidate to offer for the unbeaten, untied and unscathed on class and that one will wear the maroon of Fordham.

The Pittsburgh Panther may rate with the Fordham ram but the Panther is sure to be scored on, probably tied and, with a terrific schedule ahead, may even be beaten.

A third team with class written all over it is Columbia, but the Lion, although knowing and playing as much football as any, is pitifully weak in reserves.

Princeton and Navy may be the surprise teams of the east but the other big leaguers—Yale, Harvard, Dartmouth, N. Y. U., Cornell, Syracuse, Penn. Holy Cross and Army—are either tinged with the brush of mediocrity or indiged in downright weakness.

Payers who'll make the headlines this fall are Danowski of Fordham, Sebastian of Pitt and Red Fuller, mystery man of Yale. Many coaches rate Danowski the best player in the country.

Crowley At Fordham.
Up at Fordham where Jim Crowley, one of Rockne's old horsemen, is dressing the ram in the wolf's coat of Notre Dame, great players are fairly stumbling over one another.

Crowley has a wonder team in the making. The squad is as large in numbers as it is in size. The players are all veterans. They know their stuff. They're big and fast and tough and when they take out a man he's taken out for keeps. There's nothing they can't do with a football and if they're scored on, Fordhamites believe it will only be because they're generous.

Pitt again has a whale of a team, big, fast and powerful, with plenty of reserves and all bearing the imprint of class stamped on them by Doc Sutherland.

Princeton Good
Princeton may be expecting too much of its unscathed on Frosh team of last season. The squad is huge and rangy but Sophs have to be added before they can get a final okay. However, they look great.

Navy looks forward to a victory over a weaker team than Army has had in years. The Middies are more mature this year and they are nearly all vets. The Cadets have one of the greatest plebe teams of all time now in the campus but, unfortunately, those lads won't be available until next year.

Yale has forgotten the old saw that if Yale hasn't done it. It can't be right. Reggie Root, the new coach, is willing to try anybody's system if it works.

Colgate Green Team.
Colgate had lost all of last year's unbeaten team and Andy Kerr, master magician of the Chenango, will have his hands full trying to make another bunch of Houdinis out of a lot of green peas.

Penn is weak. Holy Cross is fair. Brown may be strong enough to take both Yale and the Harvard team which nobody seems to have a fair line on. N. Y. U. and Syracuse, with two of the biggest lines to be found anywhere, are just good run of the mine football teams.

With so many "if" teams, the results from week to week may be surprising, but of one thing you may be sure—nothing less than a cyclone is going to stop Fordham.

Zingardo had the longest hit for the losers, a triple with the bases jammed.

Coach Edward Raney and his fast Shenango High football team will be idle today and tomorrow, but one week from Saturday they will go to Slippery Rock for a game with the Slippery Rock High team.

Shenango High has another fine football team this year and they expect to reach the heights of the great 1932 team.

HEAVY APPLE HARVEST
(International News Service)
STOCKHOLM—An apple harvest expected to yield 50,000 metric tons is being gathered in Sweden. This compares to 40,000 tons in 1930, according to Baron S. A. Hermelin, head of the Swedish Promotional Society.

In the election returns which are made on the day following the election, there is one sheet which is accessible to the public from which the vote is tabulated.

There is another similar sheet and also the tally sheet used by the election board, which is in a sealed envelope.

When the return judges meet the envelopes containing the sealed reports are opened, and it is from these that the election board secures the official returns.

The contest is so close for some of the offices that there is liable to be some changes in the vote, due to errors that may have been made in the hasty preparation of the unofficial returns.

Usually, however the official count does not change the unofficial returns.

JUGGED BY JUG HE BROUGHT TO JUG

(International News Service)
TROY, O.—In visiting the jug, don't take a jug with you, is the etiquette for jail visitors recommended by Robert Morris, 23, of Piqua.

Enroute to the Miami county jail to visit his sister, an inmate, Morris took him a pint of liquor which he intended to give to her, according to police.

Suspicious deputy sheriffs inquired about the bulge in his shirt. He dropped the bottle on the sidewalk and ran. The deputies caught him and made him a resident instead of a guest of the jail.

Three Slayers Ask For Paroles

Three Serving Terms For Murder Are Among 25 Seeking Pardon Board Paroles

(International News Service)
HARRISBURG, Sept. 22.—Hearings before the state board of pardons in October were listed today for 25 Pennsylvania prisoners three of whom are serving terms for first degree murder.

The three murderers whose pleas for parole will be heard are Mike Castellana, Cambria county, James Frazier, Dauphin county, and Anthony Spardute, Bradford county. Castellana was sentenced to death for slaying Paolo Siena near Colver, Cambria county, on March 16, 1932. The sentence was commuted to life imprisonment, which he began serving in Western Penitentiary on June 30, 1923.

A death sentence for Frazier, chief cook at the eastern penitentiary was commuted to life imprisonment on October 1, 1917. Frazier was convicted of fatally stabbing Charles Smith in a Harrisburg hotel.

Spardute drew the death penalty for fatally stabbing Norman H. Carmel at Sayre on August 15, 1922. On September 18 of that year the sentence was commuted to life imprisonment.

A London man was found guilty of "being drunk while in charge of a llama". He at least has the assurance of little competition.—New York Sun.
